PROUD AND MEMORABLE DAY

SUNDAY WAS a proud and memorable day for the Diocese of Limerick when Dr. Jeremiah Newman, the 48years-old former President of Maynooth, became Bishop in succession to the late Dr. Henry Murphy who died last October.

Thousands turned out to pay tribute to Bishop Newman and many stood for a considerable time in the rain to be blessed by his Lordship following the two-hour ceremony in St. John's Cathedral.

A great future for our youth

STANDING HERE on this very important occasion -the official opening of Feile na nGael- I am happy to say that I can see a great future for this great country of ours in the youth who represent every corner of it here in Limerick this evening", Rev. Bro. P.P. Guthrie, Sexton St. CBS, stated at the opening of Feile na nGael by the President of Ireland, Mr. E. Childers, at Sexton Street.

"I am one of those who feels in no uncertain manner that the future of our children is the most important obligation we hold today and in view of this, I look with admiration, amazement and complete respect on the outstanding efforts of the GAA. I make no apologies for placing on record here this evening that when no one clse looked to the future of our youth, the GAA, many of them our great

In the course of his address.

Bro. Guthrie said: "Let us never forget the importance of our youth. It is vittal in every phase of life and it is our duty to cherish, develop and show the true way forward to our youth. Let us not forget that Feile nan fagal is playing a major role in this respect. It is uphoiding the old traditions; the national culture and the many good things that continue in the Irish nation of this difficult age.

"I appreciate only too well the responsibility many of us have accepted in our efforts to promote this great Feile—one which involves in the region of 20,000 boys under 14 years of age. It is a responsibility we accept with honour and it is one that we treasure as such.

Significant

"I often feel that it is necessary to remind the Ireland of to-day that the ancient game of hurling is more important and algainteant than at any time in vital part of the Irish way of life and we should treasure it as such Look back on the great memories of hurling down through the generations and you will soon realise that it is every bit as much a part of our heritage—every bit as much a part of our language and our folklore.
"I have been criticised in the Ianguage and our folklore.

"I have been criticised in the past, and indeed far too many have not only been criticised but strongly condemned because of their stand for the greater development of the G.A.A. and particularly where our youth is concerned. I will stand firm and take that criticism and condemnation, at any time in 'he knowledge' that my love of everything Gaelic, including our own national sport—hurling—is as soild as the determination of the youth we are honouring here on this memorable occasion in Limerick.

"I will not apologise to any-

it, and to show his determination in ensuring that it will

Tribute

"In conclusion I would like to pay a special tribute to President Childers who is welcome at all times here in the old city of Limerick. We can never honour him enough for his deep personal interest in the youth of this country, and indeed for his leadership in so many ways. He is an example to all of us, not just in the ways of State, but as a man of the people. He has earned a place in the hearts of young and old but I believe that he has won a very special place in the hearts of young and old but I believe that he has won a very special place in the hearts of our youth. He sees in youth, as so many of us do, the future of Ireland as a nation and he realises only too well that youth must be given every encouragement; every opportunity possible and an inspiration to move forward as good sportsmen and women, and as citizens of a nation that has so much to offer to those who

Rev. Mgr. Patrick 9. See, S. V.G., St. Mary's, and was as follows:

"Paul, Bishop, servant of the servants of God, to my beloved son, Jeremiah Newman, nriest of the Diocese of Limerick and chosen to be Bishop of the Diocese of Limerick, heatth and apostolic benediction. Mindful of the esteem in which you are held by the people of Limerick and of your great achievements in education, especially among the young, we confidently look on you as most worthy to be Bishop of the Diocese—to be its pastor, its teacher, its father. We also consider you most worthy to succeed the late beloved and deeply mourned Henry Murphy—a man whose qualities of mind and soul were so widely known and respected and whose exercise of the pastoral ministry was odistinguished.

"On the recommendation, therefore, of our venerable brother, the Cardinal Prefect of the Sacred Congregation for Bishops and by our own apostolic power we appoint you Bishop of the Diocese of Limerick and we confer on you all the rights that pertain to that high office and bind you to all the obligations that arise from it. For your own convenience we allow you to receive your episcopal ordination outside of the city of Rome and from the bishop of your choice, provided that you observe the directives made at proceeding the first made at a procession of the city of a procession of the city of the cit

Aer Lingus

International singing star, Helen Shapiro, currently appearing at the Parkway, was loud in her praise for when she arrived in Limerick yesterday.

Helen was scheduled to fly from Cardiff to Dublin and then on to Shannon, but the flight from Cardiff was delayed for several hours.

She explained to the authorities at Cardiff Airport that she had to be in Limerick to perform in a cebarel at 9 p.m. They arranged for her to fly to Bristol to catch a flight to Dublin.

Much to Helen's delight, the plane made an unscheduled stop at Shannon so that she would be in time for her performance. "That's what I call service," said her manager. Helen arrived in Shannon at 6 p.m.

She was a tremendous hit at the Parkway last eyening, singing such numbers as You're Sirry, Lean On Me, Listea To The Musel and Birth Of The Blues. She will be appearing again to-night, and on Wednesday and Saturday next.

Mass Ghapiro had several hits in the English Top 20 in the sixties.

Ratified

Mr. Michael Finnan's recent election to the Limerick City Vocational Education Committee at the City Council meeting was ratified by the Limerick Council of Trade Unions at their recent meeting.
