odged an objection stating that the Sheriff was not a licensed auctioneer, and accordingly could not sell.
 Sheriff—Then I will employ Mr Power.
 Mr Power—And you will have to pay me auction fees.
 Mr O'Dwyer—Produce your licence, sir.
 Mr Power—No, I will not. I have a licence but won't produce it.
 Mr O'Dwyer—I have another objection to make—

 Mr O'Dwyer—Now, don't be so impertinent, sir.
 Mr Power—I will sell now. Richard Kane bid £10 for the horse; Mr O'Dwyer bid £50, Richard Kane £60, Mr O'Dwyer, £61, and Richard Kane £65.
 Mr Power—Mr Kane is the purchaser in trust for the landlord at £65.
 The proceedings then ended, and the crowd dispersed.

THE SEARCH FOR STANLEY.—The Daily News'
 Paris correspondent, who has had an interview with M Brazza, says—The French explorer, who is now Governor of the French Company, expressed confidence that the statements of the interpreter, Assan Farran, would not affect the characters of Major Barttelot and Mr Jameson.
 He was astonished that Major Barttelot had placed himself in the hands of the Manyemi, the most treacherous creatures in the whole country.
 Not four hundred, but fully one thousand men would be required to open a straight road to the region of the White Nile, where, M Brazza is fully convinced, Stanley is to be found.
