DR. HAYES is a director of the Abbey Theatre and succeeded the late James Montgomery as Film Censor. He took part in the 1916 Rising and from 1918 to 1923 was a member of Dail Eireann. But he is probably best known for his invaluable work as research student and author of books dealing mainly with Ireland's historical relations with continental countries. In 1941 the degree of D.Litt. was conferred on him by the National University.
