LIEUT.-GENERAL MASSY

Reads His Own Obituary.

The death of Lieut.-General Massy was announced some time ago in "Truth," but this week the editor has received a letter from the General himself contradicting the news. On this "Truth" writes:—"When an editor has killed anybody by mistake, the least he can do is to apologise, but in this instance the General makes an apology a little difficult by expressing his thanks for the 'favourable notice. I can only hope that he may be able to laugh at the mistake for many years to come."

DEATH OF MR. S. B. ROBINSON.

A wide circle of friends in the city and district will grieve to hear of the wholly unexpected news of the death of Mr. Samuel B. Robinson Managing Clerk of Mr. R. L. Brown, Land Agent, which occurred in Dublin this morning.
Mr. Robinson went about six days ago to undergo an operation, which was successfully performed on Tuesday, but apparently a relapse set in, with the sad result which we record with much regret.
The deceased, who was in the prime of life, seemed in all the vigour of manhood, and was out and about as usual immediately prior to his departure for Dublin. He was well-known in connection with many pastimes, being a member of the Limerick County and P.Y.M.A.
Tennis and Cricket Club, and also an ardent fisherman. He possessed a very bright, genial, and courteous manner, which won for him hosts of friends, who will deeply regret the cutting short of a useful, an active, and exemplary life.
The sympathy of all who knew him is extended to his relatives in their poignant sorrow.

DOMESTIC UNHAPPINESS

A sad case of domestic infelicity e the County Petty Sessions bench to complainant, Mary Casey, Ballysimon, her husband, James Casey, farmer.
The poor woman told a pitiable tale life brought about through her husband. On Sunday last, without any reason, he struck her on the head, ar the way to the barrack to seek protection. He overtook her and brought her back.
I with perfect callousness, when aske had to say, replied "I have nothing am guilty."

Mr. Hickson—You will have to go a month with hard labour, and at the of that time to keep the peace for 12 £20 and two sureties of £10 each, or gaol for three months longer. There for a ruffian like you but hard labour starving.

Subsequently, on Mrs. Casey's appeal, the Magistrates eliminated the month's imprisonment, but allowed the bail to stand.

consideration by the Examiner of the House.

certain orders applicable to the Bill before
