

Mainchín in Bruree in 1993

Mainchín in Radio Kerry Studios in 1989

Mainchín along with his dear wife Prionnsaís at the launching of the Festival of Lúnasa Booklet 1989

REMEMBERING Mainchín Séoighe (Mannix Joyce)

(1924 - 2006)

Remembered by

Knockfierna Heritage Society 26-06-2018

Dr. Mainchín Séoighe of Tankardstown, was a noted historian and author. He has written extensively about County Limerick, its people and places. He was a fluent Irish speaker who promoted our language, history and heritage. To this end, for nigh on 60 years, he wrote a weekly column in the Limerick Leader.

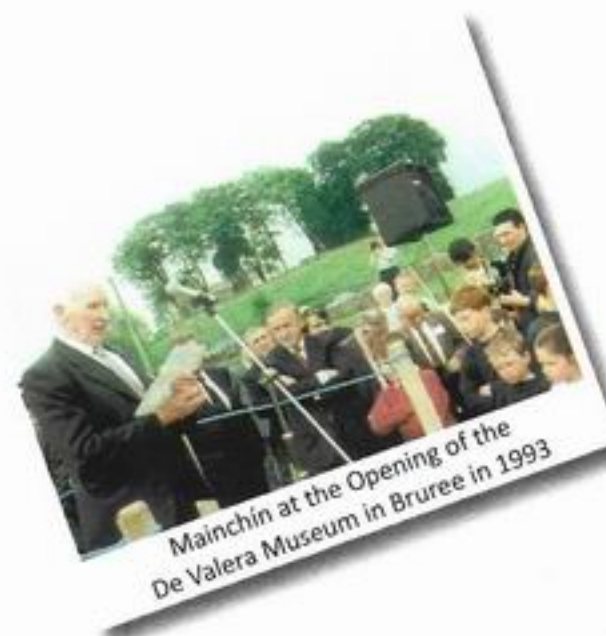

Among the books he had published were:-

- Maraíodh Séan Sabhat Aréir
- Cois Maighe na gCaor
- De Valera and Bruree
- The Story of Kilmallock
- The Joyce Brothers of Glenosheen
- The Irish Quotation Book
- County Limerick – its People and its Places
- Staker Wallis

He was awarded an honorary doctorate by the National University of Ireland in 1990. Mainchín Séoighe will always be fondly remembered by the many people who had the pleasure of hearing his wonderful talks in The Rambling House at Knockfierna, at the Joyce Brothers School, Kilfinane (which he organised) and on numerous other occasions.

We also pay tribute to his dear wife Prionnsais who often accompanied him.

Ar dheis Dé go raibh a anam dhilís

Mainchín at the Opening of the De Valera Museum in Bruree in 1993

Mainchín at the launching of the Rambling House, Knockfierna at Newcastle West Library in 1991