ONE of Ireland's best-known dance band drummers—a performer who has also played in both America and England—to-day opened a Music Supplies Shop at 12 Catherine Street (next Imperial Hotel).

Jack Glynn, the drum ace of two continents—has opened a "Services for the Musician" shop at 12 Catherine Street, Limerick, next to the Imperial Hotel.

With his vast knowledge of the music business, Mr. Glynn will provide a service second to none in the South of Ireland, and will be available in a consultative capacity every day from 10 a.m. to 6, with a half-day on Thursday, and a late opening on Saturday until 7.

Mr. Glynn has played with some of the leading combinations in this country, and has also played in the leading ballrooms in England and America.

He has felt for a long time that a service which he intends to provide would be an asset to the musicians of Limerick and district, and his new premises, which are extremely well situated, should become known as the "Musicians Headquarters" within a very short time.
