

MID-WEST REPORT

Orders complete and on time from P.M.G.

ONE of the key elements in the development of the Shannon region has been the emergence of dedicated specialist suppliers to adequately serve the construction and engineering industries which have come on the scene in recent years.

PMG Steel and Engineering Supplies on Dock Road, Limerick are typical of this new breed of supplier: efficient, forward looking and abreast of the latest technical developments as they become available and keen to exploit the opportunities they represent.

Under the managing directorship of Pat McGonagle supported by Jerry McCaffrey and an enthusiastic technical and sale staff, PMG provides a complete service as stockists of steel for all applications; welding products, and agents for welding gases.

"We supply metal fabrication shops and indeed anywhere metal is put together", Jerry McCaffrey says. "Maintenance in industry is another major area as is our stainless steel product section for the food and chemical industries. We stock a full range of stainless steel piping together with a complete lineup of fittings and valves.

"Then we're probably the biggest supplier of welding products in the South-West region, dealing in equipment, accessories, and consumables."

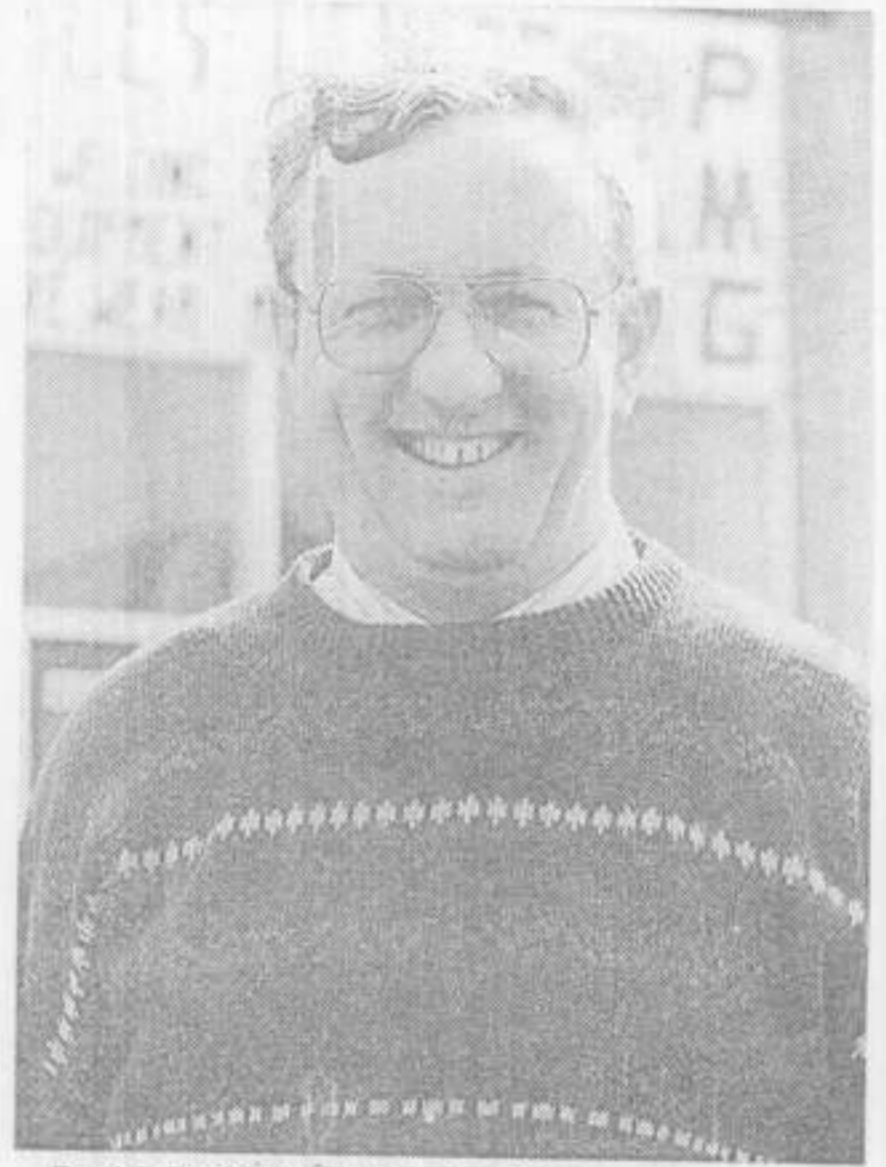

"With the addition of our Welding Products Division to our already extensive range of basic steel products, PMG now offers a complete service from a single supply source.

"The very latest Mig and Tig welding and plasma cutting equipment from Murex, welding rods for all purposes, accessories, and protective wear are all available ex-stock. We also can supply Oerlikon products and we are distributors for Air Products Cylinder Welding Gases and for Air-cosse compressors for all applications from small workshops to major industries — and they are Irish assembled.

"We keep electric power tools of all kinds and a full range of abrasive discs for cutting grinding and polishing — not to mention our sole agency for the Swedish Hornell 'Speedglass' automatically darkening welding headshields which are completely taking over the market.

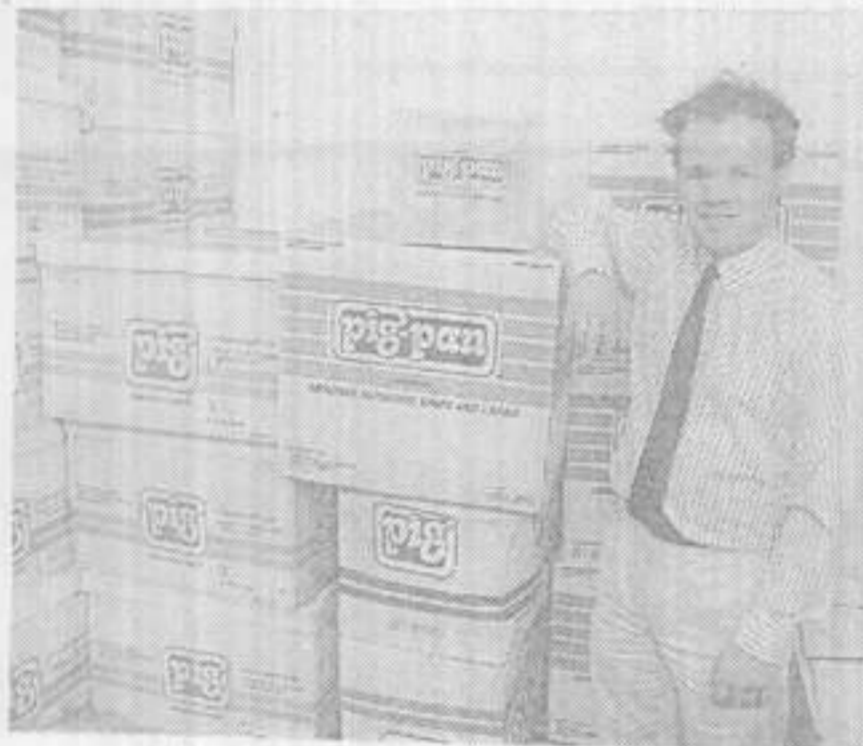

"PMG has been in existence for only five years but

in that time we have built up a reputation as the foremost supplier of this type of material in the region — thanks in no small part to the commitment on the part of all our personnel to first-class service to customers. One hundred per cent fulfilment of orders and on time: that's the standard we set for ourselves."

Coping with all known types of spillage

PMG Steel and Engineering Supplies distributes the highly reputed Haz-Chem Pig absorbent socks for cleaning up industrial spillage whether paints or oils, and in another version, dangerous acids, caustics and solvents.

Haz-Chem Pigs absorb virtually any fluid known to man. Made with Tywik a space-age absorbent developed by Dupont, Tywiks flash-spun wrinkled fibres pick liquids up 90 times faster than any conventional absorbents. It is, the makers claim, simply the best universal absorbent on the market.

Pig absorbent socks make your plant cleaner and more productive. They are a far better way of dealing with common industrial leaks than messy loose absorbents which make a dangerous mess that can cause slipping accidents, endanger employees' health, damage sensitive machinery or finished goods, clog floor drains and get tracked all over a factory. And clean plant proves that employee safety and morale is valued and is a valuable sign to everyone from top management to visitors that quality is an important concern in a factory's operation.
