

YOUR HOME - ELECTRICAL

Finucanes: heritage and expertise hand in hand

When Finucanes Electrical was established in 1959 as a 100% family run business, Ireland had only been fully electrified for 10 years.

It was a different world back then, but the principles of expertise and service that Finucanes brought to Limerick and Munster right from the start nearly 60 years ago, still apply today.

Finucanes supply all major brands including, Miele, Aga, Siemens, Fisher and Paykel, Zanussi, Whirlpool, Bosch, Neff and many more.

In 2005, looking to increase the size of their showroom to accommodate even more major brands, they relocated from the city to the Eastway Business Park in Ballysimon.

The increased floor space facilitated bigger and better displays to offer customers greater choice in a comfortable shopping environment.

Another important milestone came in 2006 when Finucanes Electrical joined the Expert group, a buying co-op run by independent retailers nationwide.

The Expert group is Ireland's biggest electrical retail concern, and the chief advantage of belonging to it is that it gives added buying power, meaning any discounts on products can get passed on to the consumer.

The sales team at Finucanes Electrical are very experienced and knowledgeable and keep up to date with all developments in the electronic industry.

Their aim is to offer customers what is best for their requirements and assist in every step of the process whatever appliance you may be looking to purchase. At Finucanes Electrical they deliver all of their own products and pride themselves on their delivery service.

Delivery is available six days a week, using their own fleet of vans. Every effort will be made to accommodate customers' needs and the warehouse are very helpful and will accommodate you where possible.

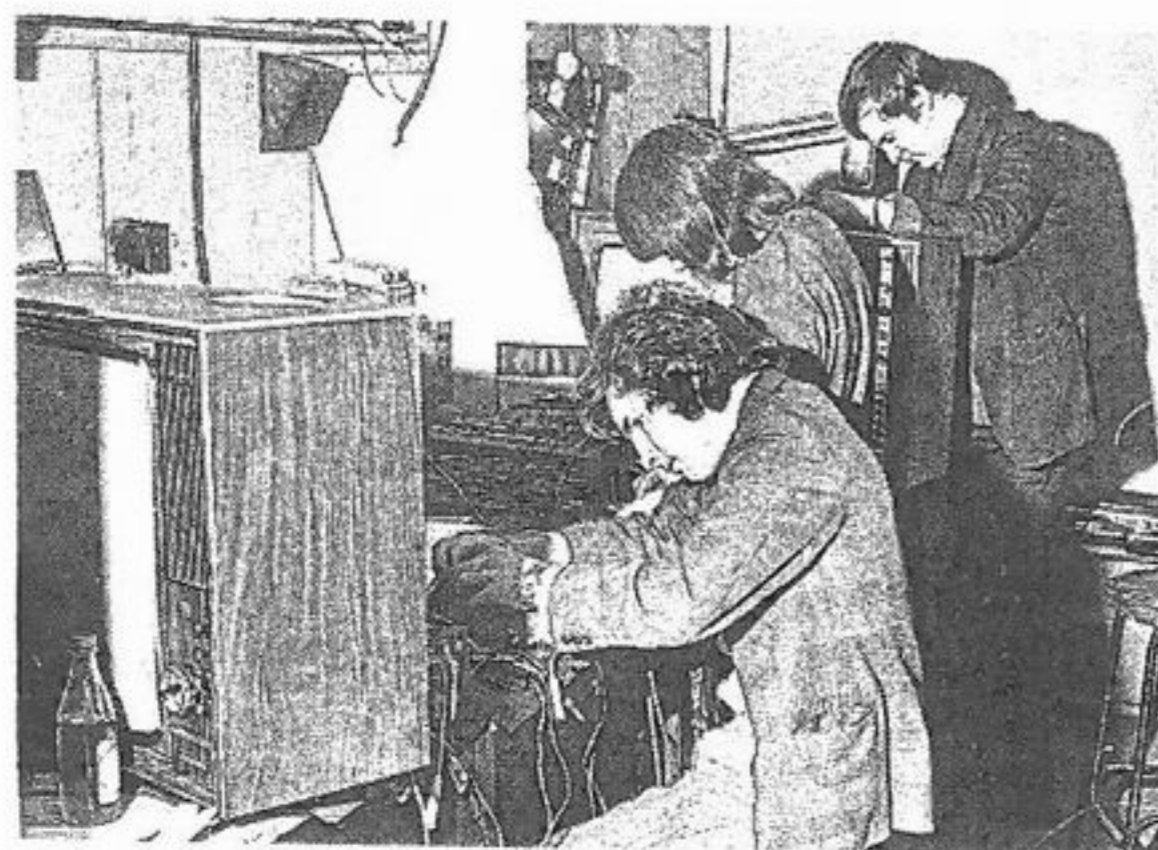

You have the added peace of mind when you buy at Finucanes Electrical because they also offer excellent after-sales service.

If you have any difficulty with any products bought at the store the customer service representative at Finucanes is ready to take your call.

The service desk is on the shop floor so you may also call in and speak directly to the representative. They aim to have the matter resolved as soon as possible and will keep you informed at all times. Whatever appliance you are in the market for why not call to the showroom today at Unit 1A., Eastway Business Park, Ballysimon Road, Limerick where the sales team will be happy to help you.
