

In 1964, Lipton's had tasty window displays, which included Lipton's tea, chef sauce, blackcurrant jam and a variety of whiskeys. They also had fresh meats on display, which included a selection of locally sourced pork and bacon products. Lipton's was located on O'Connell Street, it was one of the businesses destroyed during the Todd's fire of 1959 and was rebuilt by 1961.
