these shady

international
y realistic to empts would
t in the cloak
d of spies and
wever these
be stamped
irport source.
rk affair was
FBI agent
arms dealer,
d mission fol-
m over the
nding of a US
believed to
ng a shipment
apons to the
artled airport
alerted that
ances were on
the aircraft to
the special
hile the crew
erick hotel.

followed allegations by the board of "serious misconduct" by his allegedly not telling the board about irregular reception of supplies by other people.

The hearing had been adjourned on Monday, November 14 last, after the first day of submissions and evidence.

For the appellant, Mr Michael Barry, of Railway Road, Kilmallock, was Mr Roddy Horan BL, instructed by O'Donnell Dundon & Co, solicitors. For the respondent company, the ESB, were Mr Frank Callinan BL, instructed by Arthur Cox & Co, solicitors.

Presiding

Presiding over the tribunal was Mr David Sheehan BL, assisted by Mr Maurice Co-

Mr. Michael Barry.

whey and Mr Patrick O'Farrell.

When the hearing resumed Mr. Sean Wyse, customer services manager with the ESB in Limerick said that from an ESB point of view there was no greater crime than the fraudulent extraction of their supply.

The central issue,in the case said Mr. Wyse involved an ESB staff employee interfering himself.

The failure to report and follow up the matter of the customer who was a staff member was "entirely inexcusable", said Mr. Wyse.

Mr. Ted Murphy, ESB, former deputy district accountant for Limerick, now working in the western region, told the tribunal that on November 16, 1986, he spoke to Mr. Barry and told him that he was not satisfied with the account of a Co. Limerick employee, and that of a customer in Elton.

Witness said that Mr. Barry intimated that he knew about the employee's account, which was discovered while he was on holidays, and reported to him on his return.

Asked by witness, why he

(Turn to Page 2)

science parks group

MR. MICHAEL Ryan of Bruff was this week appointed as the first director general of the international Association of Science Parks, with assets of its 180 members audited at 32 million U.S. dollars.

And Mr. Ryan revealed that he is now establishing the permanent world headquarters of the director general at Plassey Technological Park with regional offices in Nice,

(Turn to Page 2)

FOUR youths were remanded in custody to Limerick City court this Thursday, when they appeared before Justice M. Reilly, charged with having under their control two single barrel sawn off shotguns and five shotgun cartridges in circumstances that inferred that they were not for a lawful purpose.

Three of the defendants, John Connery (19) of 122 O'Malley Park, Eddie Connery (18) of 122 O'Malley Park and Joseph Kiely (23) of Bunkey, Lisnagry were also charged with having unlawful possession of the firearms with intent to endanger life and to cause injury to property contrary to the Firearms Act,1925, as amended by the Criminal Law (Jurisdiction) Act 1976.

Joseph Kiely faced an additional charge of unlawfully and maliciously committing damage to a window and ceiling at the home of Sean Kiely at O'Malley Park.

The only charge preferred against John Kiely (18) of 285 O'Malley Park was that of possession of the firearms in suspicious circumstances.

They were remanded in custody to this Thursday's court, when Mr Tom O'Donnell, solr., said an application for bail will be made. In the case of John Kiely, consent to bail was given.

Decision on Caman's records is praised

THE DECISION taken by the family of the late Seamus O Ceallaigh, who wrote under the pen-name "Caman", that his collection of GAA records and memorabilia were to be left in the care of the City Library, was this week welcomed by Ald. Jim Kemmy, T.D., a long-time friend of the historian.

When Mr. O Ceallaigh died last May, at the age of 82, he bequeathed his collection, said to be the most comprehensive in Ireland, to the City Library.

This week, his son, Fr. Pat Kelly, speaking from Dublin, said that nobody had any authority to interfere with his father's last wish that they be kept in the City Library for the people of Limerick to enjoy.

Ald. Jim Kemmy, T.D. in welcoming the intervention of the O Ceallaigh family to prevent the collection from being removed at any time from the City Library, said that future generations would now be able to learn from them.

"The late Mr. O Ceallaigh was a gentle, modest and generous man and it was a magnificent gesture by him to bequeath his life's work to the city of his adoption", said Ald. Kemmy.

There should, he continued, be a formal handing over ceremony where tribute could be paid to the late Mr. O Ceallaigh and his family.

"If Dublin or Cork were the beneficiaries of such a collection, I have no doubt they would respond accordingly", he added.

The City Librarian Mr. Maurice O'Flynn, he said, greatly appreciated the magnanimous gesture and had told him in conversation that they would be indexed and updated.

It was only fitting, he concluded, that Limerick people should now share the late Mr. OCeallaigh's lifetime of collected material.

Meanwhile, Fr. O Ceallaigh told the Limerick Leader that no individual or body, had any authority to interfere, or question their decision.

He confirmed that his father had at one time considered leaving his collection to Croke Park—"but they had earlier lost some documentation loaned by him so he had a change of mind".

The Limerick County Board had also expressed an interest, but at the time had no suitable 'home' for them.

A spokesman for the Board said this Thursday that the City Library was probably the most suitable location—"and if the library staff need any assistance from us then we will gladly give it"

The Seamus O Ceallaigh archives were often referred

Turn to page 2

Tipp – no

The Tipperary County Board this Wednesday night gave the thumbs down to Limerick's request to play their Munster Senior Hurling Championship semi-final – provided Limerick got over Kerry in the first round – at the Gaelic Grounds. A spokesman for the Tipperary County Board said this Thursday that they would opt for the game to be played in Cork.

rHS

ee Harty) – 17
mel, and late of Limerick; 15th
her daughter's
lm Park, Clon-
regretted by her
ughters, sister,
hter-in-law, sis-
children, rela-
R.I.P. Remains
to St. Oliver's
lay evening. Re-
uesday at 11 o'c.
place immediate-
o St. Patrick's

nuary 18, 1989,
, at St. Camillus'
Weston House,
enue, beloved
late Arthur and
ly mourned and
by her loving
, sisters-in-law,
, relatives and
Removal from
l Home to St.
, this (Thursday)
. Requiem Mass
11 o'c. Funeral
unt St. Laurence
private please.
(c)