Munster J.20 team

Following is the Munster team to play Leinster in on Saturday 22nd.
 Murphy (Bohs.), Captain;
 Kelly (Dolphin), C.
 Mott (Bohs.), D. Di-Old Crescent), D. Hy-J.C.C.), P. Danagher-feale), B. O'Shaugh-Cork Con.), T. Kings-Dolphin), B. Trevor II), M. Cadogan-reen), J. Ahern R. Ryan (Bohs.), G. n (Shannon), P. e (U.C.C.), M. Fitzgib-annon). Reserves to J. Woulfe (S.Well.), J. y (Y Munster), P. Old Crescent), P. Kirby- funster), H. Nash

Dromore Harriers

The Dromore Harriers will meet at 12 noon as follows:
 Oct. 16th — Elm Park; Oct 23rd — Old Kildimo; Oct. 30th — Ringmoylan.

Campbell (second from right) making the draw for the Hi-Way Restaurant City Centre Lounge Bar Stakes. Also included are (from left): Phil Healy, Brendan O'Connell, track manager, and Liam O'Connor.

lowly Redgate as opposition. Pike will rarely have it this easy again.
 One of the most intriguing clashes of the day is undoubtedly that of Kennedy Park v. Wembley Rovers at Rathuard, 10.45. This game has all the makings of a thriller, with the superior playing skills of Wembley the deciding factor.
 Summerville have Abbey Rovers as visitors to Portland Park on Sunday afternoon, 3.00. Despite their recent lack-lustre showings, Summerville should have a bit to spare at the end of 90 minutes.
 Caherconlish v. Vereker at Caherconlish, 3.00. Could be a tricky one for Vereker, who have yet to show the form they are capable of with the talent at their disposal. However, I give them slight preference.
 Meanus v. Trinity at Meanus, 3.00, is another one of those games, with ground advantage, that should go the way of the home side.

Novice regatta

Lough Derg Windsurfing Club will hold its novice regatta at Lough Derg, on Sunday next, October 16. This regatta provides an ideal opportunity for board-sailors who have begun sailing this year to test their skills against fellow beginners. The day gets under way at 11.30 a.m., when a lecture on the correct rigging and maintenance of boards is given, this is followed at 12 noon by a talk on safety.
 Before the novice race at 3 p.m., competitors will be shown the basic triangle course used and this will include a practice session led by Club member Jeff Conell, who is currently division one national champion.
 First prize for the novice race is the "Limerick Inn perpetual trophy," a beautiful Galway crystal trophy, kindly sponsored by the Limerick Inn Hotel.
 Presentation of this and the runner up prizes will take place at Brendan Foley's Lounge in Killaloe, at 5 p.m. The regatta is only open to club members.
 The club will hold its annual general meeting on Wednesday next, October 19, at the Royal George Hotel, at 7.30 p.m. All members, and intending members are welcome to attend. Plans for the club's future will be formed at this important A.G.M.

SENIOR SOCCER

Limerick crisis not yet solved

BY JOHN O'SHAUGHNESSY

With Limerick soccer the laughing stock of the country at the moment it is to be hoped that a solution will be found when the League of Ireland hold an emergency meeting in Dublin this Friday evening to discuss what can only be described as a sick affair.
 While Limerick United are scheduled to meet Home Farm at Tolka Park on Sunday, it is not yet certain whether the game will take place as the Professional Footballers Association have once again threatened to picket the ground.
 It is now up to the League of Ireland to sort out the entire mess. Mind you, they have contributed their share to the present impasse and should have taken corrective measures before the controversy flared up.
 Instead, they preferred to wash their hands of the affair and now find themselves very much in the firing line. One would have thought that they would have given some time to resolving the issue earlier in the week, and not 30 hours before United's next scheduled match.
 It is quite conceivable that they will take the easy way out by suspending United from football because of allegations that they fielded an illegal team against Bohemians at Dalymount Park.
 That could leave the way for Limerick City to make a fresh application for membership.
 The surprising aspect about this whole sad affair is that the average man in the street does not appear to be concerned. They are fed up to their teeth with this latest controversy, as reflected in the 100 or so who bothered to make the journey to the Markets Field last weekend.

 Without wishing to take sides, it is my humble opinion that if United are allowed to continue in football under their present structure they will undo all the good work of recent years.
 They don't seem to have the players, finance or goodwill to make a success of things.
 It has been suggested that they might be prepared to back down if Limerick City chairman, Mr. Pat Grace, was prepared to do a deal.
 Limerick soccer fans resent the way they are being treated. While the game has had its ups and downs over the past 44 years, it never reached its present low depth.
 The season is only a few weeks old and irrespective of what happens in Dublin this Friday, it will take a long time indeed to repair the damage which has been done.
 The warning signals were evident much earlier and should have prompted the powers that be in Dublin to intervene. Their attitude only added fuel to fire.
 Limerick United have promised to come up with certain guarantees this evening, but if one is to be realistic about the situation it is difficult to see them putting their house in order in time for Sunday.
 Should the situation not be resolved at Merrion Square, then the League of Ireland should stand down.

O'Connor.
 In conjunction with the finals on Saturday we also had a very successful blitz. The winning team on this occasion, which consisted of T. Kelleher, Marian Hurley, T. Barrett, S. Moloney, and Barbara Brennan, had only a one-point victory over Paul Hackett's team which consisted of M. Fallon, C. Behan, R. Richardson and Anne Marie Sweeney. The winning team in the plate was captained by Tim Treacy.
 On Monday night we saw the finals of the ladies section of the Trustee Savings Bank competition in which Deirdre Murphy was unable to overcome a large handicap of 26 points and went down to Mary Heffernan 3/0. In the plate event Patricia Cummins had a 3/2 victory over Bridget O'Sullivan.
 Also picked last week were the teams for the ladies junior leagues.
 Ladies junior league A team: M. Fallon, capt., M. O'Grady, P. Cummins, B. English, E. Coughlan, G. Branagan, J. Quish.
 Ladies junior league B team: M. Buckley (capt.), M. O'Brien, B. Heffernan, M. Murphy, B. Brennan, A. Foley, K. Moloney.
 Men's Div. 2 team: Tony O'Leary, Tim Treacy, Tom Kelleher, Dan O'Sullivan, Denis Barron, Martin Ryan, John Grace, Brian Williams.
 Also at the moment preparations are under way for the staging of the Wang Munster Junior Open which will be held in Limerick in November. Entry forms for the competition are now available.
