Veather. 5.15—Inside Ulster
)—Rolf Harris Cartoon Time.
er. 6.35—That's Showbusi-
b Says . . . Opportunity Knocks.
). 9.45—Bob Says . . . Oppor-
10.25—News and Sport,
)—Match of the Day. 11.30—
05—Film: The Looking Glass
ather.

BBC 2

University. 2.45—Network
lm: The Mad Miss Manton.
m Woburn. 5.45—Film: Kings 7.30—Newsview. 8.15—The
ry. 9.15—Film: The Servant.
11.45—Depeche Mode: The

UTV

Train. 11.30—The Partridge
—The Chart Show. 1.00—ITN
National Weather and Ulster
0—Jobwatch. 1.40—Athletics:
Championships. 3.00—Film:
Alaska. 4.50—Disney Cartoon.
ws — ITV National Weather.
News and Sport. 5.15—Athle-
k UK Championships. 6.15—
and Broke. 6.45—Combat.
onley: This Way Up. 8.00—Jake
. 9.00—ITN News and Sport—
'eather. 9.15—Ulster News and
—Dempsey and Makepeace.
nd Pace. 10.50—World Cham-
ng. 11.20—Saturday Night at 2.05—The Coca Cola Interna-
wards. 1.30—Twilight Zone.
tman and Her — ITN News
00—Batman. 4.30—America's

CHANNEL 4

n the Move. 6.30—Just 4 Fun.
nd Mouse War. 7.00—Bright
—Streetwise. 8.00—Box Office
—The Oprah Winfrey Show.
assics. 9.25—Murun Buchstan-
—Hand in Hand. 10.00—4 What 0.30—Film: Orchestra Wives.
master Magoo. 12.30—Dance
0—Humph: The Desert Dairy.
in New York. 4.05—Our Charlie.
ide Omnibus. 6.00—Right to Challenge to Sport. 7.00—The
eek. 8.00—Kingdom of the Sun.
fe as a Dog. 10.55—Elayne
of One. 12.0—After Dark.

SKY CHANNEL

Factory. 11.00—Trans World
—WWF Superstars of Wrestling
ie Saturday Movie Matinee: It ry Spring. 3.00—Planet of the Nescafe UK Top 50. 5.00—Small
)—The Bionic Woman. 6.30—
ible! 7.30—Love Boat. 8.30—
y Movie: Michigan Melody.
Main Event. 11.45—The Nes-
50. 12.45—The Landscape

SKY MOVIES

, Wild and Free. Wildlife photo-ge Eastman takes you on a safari ıtiful region of Canada's North ıbia. 6.00—A Chorus Line (PG).
with Oscar-winning director Sir ıborough's adaptation of Broad-st running show (it's fourteen is summer). Michael Douglas, for "Wall Street" in 1988, stars as ector determined to get only the lard of performer for his upcom-y show. 8.00—Mia Farrow Dou-
t 1: Broadway Danny Rose (PG). is Danny Rose, a washed up ıeatrical agent who promotes

Mayor Paddy Madden, Michael Hartnett, PC; Michael O'Meara, Mayor of Southill, and Cllr. Ger Fahy at the official opening of the Southill Garden Centre.

MAYOR LAUDS SOUTHILL INITIATIVE

By LEADER REPORTER

THE OFFICIAL opening of the Southill Garden Centre at Southill House demonstrated what could be done in employment blackspot communities if sound leadership was provided, the Mayor of Limerick, Cllr. Paddy Madden, declared when he performed the opening ceremony.

He praised the people of Southill for getting up and doing something instead of just talking about their problems. "This is an example I would like to see other parts of the city following", Cllr. Madden said.

The chairman of Southill Development Co-op, Fr. Joe Young, said the opening was evident of what happened when people went into partnership with semi-state agencies and began to take control of their own lives.

The opening of the centre was the result of a partnership forged between the Southill Co-op, the local community service board, Shannon Development and FAS, and with financial support from the Limerick Shannon Rotary Club, which provided realistic seed capital to start the project in the first place.

The centre represented serious job creation, with five real jobs being provided.

"We must never accept unemployment as a way of life", Fr. Young stated. "Unemployment takes away people's dignity".

He said Southill House and the garden centre were a beacon of hope for the people of the area and the seeds of future growth were being set literally and metaphorically.

Mr. John Hannafin, chairman of the Community Services Board, singled out Mr. Joe O'Donvoan of the Rotary Club, for his vision and confidence in the people of Southill, by arranging the seed capital for the project to begin in the first place. "That was a singular act of faith in Southill", Mr. Hannafin said, "and it is an example of what can be done with a small amount of money.

"The opening is a milestone in this community's development. Long may we work together. We must be tirelessly active if we want to achieve progress".

Mr. Michael Tinney, president of the Limerick/Shannon Rotary Club, said they were delighted to see the results of their contribution to Southill. "We were delighted to have been associated with this project and we hope it will prosper", he added.

He felt it was part of the Rotary Club's function to become associated with community ventures of various sorts and he looked forward to continued involvement with such projects.

Cllr. Ger Fahy told the Limerick Leader at the opening that he always believed if the people of Southill were given the opportunity to display their hidden talents then everyone would see positive results. The opening of the garden centre underlined this.

Mr. Paddy O'Sullivan, enterprise officer with the co-op, said the co-op and the community services board were now adopting a total community-integrated programme, which employed qualified experts to take charge of business projects in Southill, with everyone else involved being from the local community. "This approach gives the prospect of viability to our efforts", he commented.

He said the garden centre was very special in itself because it enhanced the beauty of Southill and generated an interest in gardening and beautifying the area among the people there.

The centre will trade as SGC Blooms and will supply the wholesale and landscape gardening trade as well as retailing their produce. It will also provide beautiful gardens around Southill House, which is being developed as a community resource.

city dump at Moyross should be transformed into a major park — similar to the People's Park in Pery Square — according to local city councillor, Tim O'Driscoll. And residents in the area agree with him.

The former dump is now an open green space and it has been suggested that it might be turned into a golf course. But Cllr. O'Driscoll felt that would not be of as much benefit to the community as a decent park would be.

A group of people living nearby supported the suggestion of a park. Timmy Ray, Tommy O'Callaghan and Pat Delahunty from Glenagross Park said they felt the park idea would be marvellous for the local people. Jenny Hogan and Catherine Kiely agreed.

Cllr. O'Driscoll said that the parks department of the Corporation had done excellent work everywhere they went and had recently created a beautiful park at Barrington's Pier.

"A park on the site of the former dump could serve not only Moyross but this whole side of the city," he said.

Garda file on blast

A file is being prepared by the Gardai at Mary Street and will be sent to the DPP in relation to the incident in the school-yard of Ard Scoil Ris on Sunday night last, where a container of acid exploded injuring six people, including two gardai.

Five of the injured who were treated for skin and eye burns were discharged on Sunday night. One of the youths was detained overnight. Gardai believe that the container was taken from the science laboratory in the school.

Standing where the suggest Hogan, Catherine Kiely, Tim
young Damien Jackson, T
Delahunty, al

At the official opening of the Southill Garden Centre: Fr. Joe Young, chairman c
Co-op; Cllr. Ger Fahy, John McCann, CTT; Brendan Woods, chamber of commerc secretary, Limerick/Shannon Rotary club and Limerick Leader advertising manag Shannon Development.