Better Gaelic Teams If There Were No Ban

For one person who can point in hating games that are good for the youth of the country, whether they originated in England or Czechoslovakia or anywhere else. So said Rev. M. Kelly, C.C., Newcastle West, when returning thanks for his unanimous re-election as President of the local G.A.A. Club on Sunday last. Father Kelly went on to say they would have far better teams if they could do away with the ban, as they would then have far more players to select from and they would have a better spirit of unity amongst all sections of the community.

RETURNING thanks for his re-election as President of the local G.A.A. Club, Father Kelly also thanked the people of County Limerick who gave his team much support. He added it was due to the good work of the committee that the club had made such progress in the last few years.

The reference by the referees to the future of bowls in our county and to the need for qualified instructors to teach the game is an important one. The future of bowls depends on the encouragement given to it by those interested. The bowls section should be actively promoted by the G.A.A. to ensure its future.

Rival clubs playing foreign games have brought the ban into existence.

The ban on foreign games is becoming more and more popular, not only in our country but also in other parts of the world. The ban is necessary in order to maintain the purity of the game. It is also necessary to protect the game from the influence of foreign games.

Hypocrisy

"On the subject of hypocrisy," claimed Father Kelly, "I found fault with those who said the ban was only hypocrisy as part of the rule of the G.A.A. I maintain that, because it is from the national and patriotic point of view."
