

Con made one gallant effort, only to tip the bar slightly and knock it off.

Returning home to Limerick he showed even finer form when he competed at Adare. Here he crossed 6 ft. 5 ins., and which, when measured in the centre, showed 6 ft. 4 7/8 ins. Although this would have been a new Irish record, for time, or for that matter never after, jumped within two inches of this figure.

I have heard some of our greatest athletes say that Carroll's figures should never have been accepted, in preference to the great marks of Pat Leahy, who was always capable of jumping that figure in this country.

Joe Leahy was joint Munster high

Mr. Holliday's co-ed the staff, of which course, was the doyen presented.

And so in that seal the benediction of which he was an ember, under a cold sun was laid in a granite neither moss nor limestone Christian hope in a reaction, the grand Boyd's.

PASSPORT TO BLISS

The books are those who knew him not but believe that balance sheet was presented to the Gre signature, it was "passport to eternal Requiescat in pace"

FROM SINGAPORE

APPRECIATIVE

(To the Editor, "Limerick")

Dear Sir—I have just (October) issues of "Leader," which I get home. I noticed in a reader in England looked forward to and I thought you know how much I received it in Singapore item I look for "Drom," and then the Limerick team is "just read an account between Limerick and National League, con excited as if I had watching it. It was lost, but they will Ireland winners yet, be there to see it.

"Up Limerick, ever Thanking you, Mr sincerely

P. McC

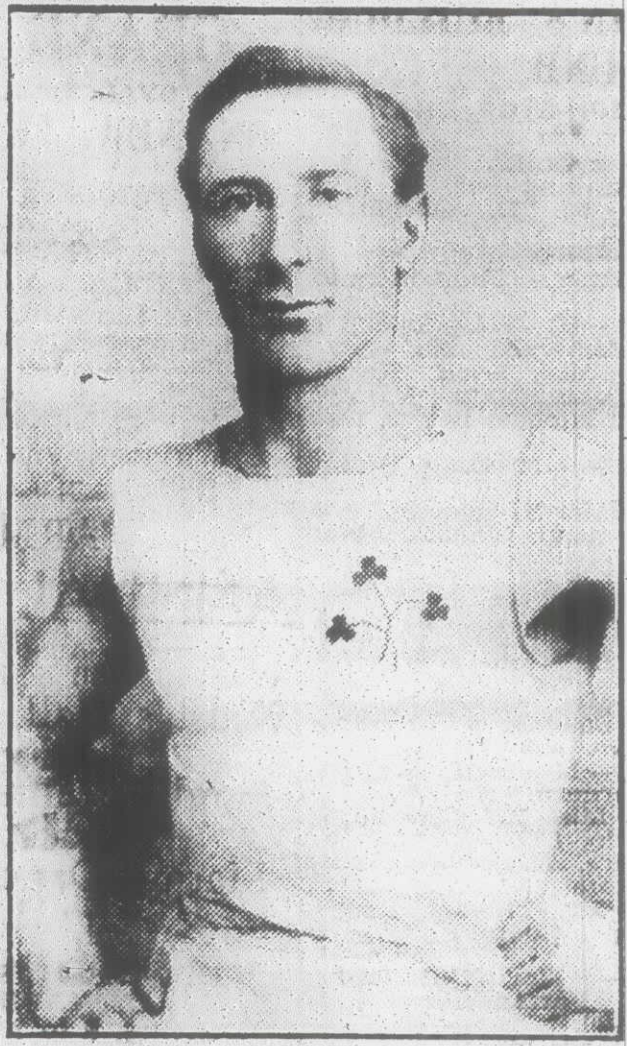

A.M.Q. 111/45, Mandalay Road, R. Changi, Singapore 1 Malaya. 4/12/50.

EIGHTEEN PEBBLES

A report from Limerick that 18 persons per which inundated the nuco and the village

All

your fav

P. J. Leahy, the most colourful of the famous jumpers.

some reason, or other, it was never accepted.

Con Leahy emigrated in 1909, and although making one or two appearances in the States, he apparently retired from competition shortly afterwards.

PAT A MORE COLOURFUL COMPETITOR.

Pat Leahy was a far more colourful competitor than his eldest brother, but while not being as consistent, was undoubtedly a greater jumper. He jumped with a beautiful lay-out and I have heard many men who saw him jump, state that he had a perfect style, which was an absolute joy to watch.

On a wet ground at Limerick in 1898, he cleared the astonishing jump champion in 1904, and shortly afterwards followed his brothers over the 6ft. mark, and while not being consistent at this figure was usually good for 5ft. 10ins.

Tom Leahy, although better known as a sprinter, was also a fairly good jumper, and, with his brother Michael, could always be depended upon to get somewhere in the vicinity of 5 ft. 10 ins.

SISTER WAS ALSO A USEFUL JUMPER.

There was one other member of the family who achieved fame, although not in open competition. The famous Leahys had a sister who was quite capable of clearing 5 ft. at any time, and who probably became proficient as a high