

city a number, but no 3.
 is educated at Eton ridge. For a short n in the Inniskilling g abroad he suffered, an unfortunate accident nce of sign posts in longing to Japan, as the spread of geo-
 was caused by the nights he wandered perature of twenty badly frost-bitten.
 ledge of the domestic which frequent our ledge, indeed, which ag two thousand five pon a four thousand A man who desired
 g out of butts upon g of heather, on the d driving, and similar ore efficient mentor.
 il they are as well
 and a Prussian regi-
 in keeping the size able limits. He has a but he rarely shoots therein.
 hing which he under-t, and regards society is probably the best ayers. He can tell a or can tell it better.
 mper, a fine digestion,
 at chess and knows
 With his aptitude for ent a flying-machine.
 isogynist.

JEHU JUNIOR.

No. 1483.

n Mrs. B, the wife of to mention that he n going to tea. On nds a note from Mrs.
 call, asking him to e next. Mrs. B said Major A at the time.
 o?

D CASE No. 1481.

o official step. If he General it must be a ostulation, but even ons with the General.

H CUSTOMS.

silver arrows to His
 the Royal Bodyguard
 to Holyrood is only oms observed in the
 of the King. Sir holds his lands on nd of a certain road
 en the King passes, horn. It is not on present Baronet has perform this curious Craufurd holds the understanding that cross Cramond Brig
 ce, he presents him with water, in which ad was first granted who saved the life
 d, the hero of the rtunzie Man," when te disguise of a beg-try, according to his
 . Should the Sover-oun House, the Mar-

Compensation Bill.

Mr. Goodbody said the amendments were from an employers' point of view. There was a suggestion in the letter to invite the co-operation of their local members of Parliament, but the sympathies of the latter were entirely on the other side.

Mr. Fitt did not think there was much use in the employers trying to amend the Bill as the whole tendency was in the direction of protecting labour, and that was the tendency of the judges too.

The matter dropped.

RESIGNATIONS.

Letters were read from Mr. M. Cusack, Mr. P. W. Snell, and Mr. F. E. Kearney, resigning membership.

The resignations were accepted.

VOTE OF CONDOLENCE.

The President said since they last met one of their oldest members, Mr. Martin Maguire, had joined the great majority. He now proposed a vote of condolence with his family. Next to Mr. O'Gorman, Mr. Maguire was the oldest member of the Chamber of Commerce.

The motion was passed unanimously.

FINANCIAL.

The statement of accounts for the year showed a balance to credit of £144, subject to audit, after meeting expenditure on the building.

This was considered satisfactory.

THE LIBRARY.

Mr. Goodbody suggested that some of the valuable books upstairs might be given to the City Public Library.

Mr. Murphy said that Rev. J. Dowd and Mr. James Frost, who took a great interest in the library, might be asked to inspect the books and report.

After some conversation, it was understood that the matter was referred to the Library Committee of the Chamber.

Some further business having been disposed of, the ballot for the election of nine directors for the ensuing year took place.

THE LATE HON. E. SPRING RICE.

A Beautiful and Useful Memorial

In commemoration of the Hon. Stephen E. Spring Rice, heir to the Mount Trenchard Estates, who died at the early age of 23, in London, on the 7th April, 1900, and whose remains were interred amid every manifestation of sorrow, in the beautiful burying ground attached to Mount Trenchard Church, Lord and Lady Monteaule are erecting a costly memorial fountain in the village of Shanagolden, on his lordship's property. The water is being conveyed from a reservoir on the Kerry Hill, and as the inhabitants have hitherto been at times short of this essential element, the additional supply will be of the greatest benefit to them.

CONDOLENCE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

At the meeting of the Kilrush Board of Guardians on Saturday, a resolution was passed unanimously expressing the regret of the Guardians on the unexpected death of Mr. Michael O'Dea, of Knockerra, and tendering their sympathy to his wife and family, and his brothers-in-law the Messrs. Michael, John, and Thomas Crotty, D.Cs. of the Board.

Tiberias (value one penny), half shekel B.C. 145, struck by Simon Maccabens, Shekel struck by Simon Maccabens, B.C. 145 (value 2s 8d. Shekel struck by Simon Bar Kokab.

NOTE—The practice of coining commenced 700 B.C., previous to which the previous medals were weighed in the balance.

The shorthand classes taught by Rev. Brother Shanahan, in addition to the other subjects, were successful in obtaining three second class certificates, which are displayed together with the awards of prizes from 1900 to 1904 in handwriting and English composition. There is a collection of choice books forming the nucleus of a first class library. Many of the exhibits are displayed in handsome glass show cases, and have been presented by manufacturers in England and mother country.

During my visit to the institution I was also afforded an opportunity of observing the working of the manual schools, established barely six months ago, in which 28 boys in two classes, are taught freehand drawing, model drawing from objects, and general modelling, solid geometry, including plain and elevation with sections, and advanced practical geometry. Rev. Brother Shanahan conducts the school under the Department of Agriculture, and has already obtained the highest award, "Excellent," for drawing, and has also secured 9 Cards of Merit for 1905.

In the spacious and well-lighted workshop there are seven benches, at each of which works two boys, who turn to advantage their thorough knowledge of freehand drawing, in the conversion of the wood into brackets, picture frames, fretwork, inlaying, and beautiful specimens of carving. Instruction in mortice and tenon joints, bridle joints, angle bridle joints, and dovetailing is also given, and remarkable progress in the essentials has already been made. Illustrations in Natural History pertaining to the arts, adorn the walls of this splendid technical school.

To those within measurable distance of Glin, I would say, come and see the manual schools established by those incomparable educationists—the Christian Brothers.

DAY-LIGHT SERVICE TO LONDON.

Action of Limerick Chamber of Commerce.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, Mr. A. W. Shaw, J.P., President, in the chair,

A letter was read from the Secretary, Great Southern and Western Railway Company, dated 13th May, with reference to a letter from the Chamber inquiring if the Company could see their way to accelerate the morning train from Cork and Limerick Junction to Dublin, so as to establish a connection with the North Wall boat. The Secretary was directed to say that the Board had given the matter very careful consideration, and found that to connect with the proposed sailing at twelve o'clock noon at North Wall would mean leaving Cork at a very early hour, which would necessitate the breaking of the connections on the Waterford and Limerick line; but if the London and North-Western Company's boat were to sail at one o'clock p.m., instead of twelve noon, as proposed, it would enable the steamers to connect with the Great Southern and Western Railway Company's existing service.

The President asked would they take any

Li
 As Re
 Ne At Ki
 M
 Ca
 Dc
 Oo
 At Ca
 Br
 Br
 Pa
 Ad
 Fo
 Gli
]
 rep rus
 th her wh the rer cor
 sin mo
 Ele
 "
 Li
 no 01 mo W: der wh
]
 an ore for Sli
 W.
]
 10 7,7
]
 an tot
 an Sa
 Gi
 lis
 th fo dic rej sai de of M ke