

'ader.

1956.

MATTER

points of view, the red—that is, within nastiness has not yet alarming number of thin recent months, be due to a certained by the contempt they may be traced, and must give rise to n Saturday last, for ed in flight in the life is said to have s to be remembered collisions that have quite recently. To nge that in the vast it better and safer ! It is much easier the ordinary road-been made in the ion, it is quite pos- some secrets still to f aeronautics. This arge number of air place of late years, number of accidents being made in the or statistics will be huge growth of air stage of air mishaps or the more prosaic lerations, many will that safety is being r speed in the realm when those engaged ce that is the case fairs by comparison speed less than that wing." In such cir- that the number of easing rather than by no means confined tendency prevails as ianonical contrivances, are setting a deplor- the desire for new regard the safety of of a competitor! All fast travel is to be tally every form of a very large degree se in the number of g in our Irish roads

'AIN

LYHEAD
IARD
UARD
tied as follows:

clusive 5 a.m. and 8.40 p.m.
25 a.m. and 2.30 p.m.
10th September) the oghaire at 11.35 a.m.

clusive 11.15 p.m.
2.15 a.m.

Sats. only 6.30 p.m.
lays only 12.0 night.

8.40 p.m.
8.25 a.m.
2.15 a.m.

ND SAILING

cessity for Steamer Sailing Tickets (via

4th August, inclusive

ust.
gust.

MOTOR ACCIDENT ON WAY TO MASS: ACTION FOR £50

A MOTOR accident, which occurred on the way to Mass in Glenroe Church, had a sequel at Kilmallock Court on Thursday last week, before Justice H. L. Conner, B.L., when Mrs. Ryan, Ballyferrode, Glenroe, widow and farmer, sued Timothy O'Connell, Tully, Glenroe, farmer, for £50, alleged damages sustained in the townland of Ballyshane on the 2nd March last, the defendant drove his car in such a manner as to cause the plaintiff's car and his car to collide and caused damage to the plaintiff's car as alleged.

Mr. W. A. Lee, solicitor, appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. W. W. McCarthy, solicitor, appeared for the defendant.

The plaintiff, in evidence, said that on the 2nd March last she was going to the First Friday in Glenroe Church. She left her own house driving a new Ford Anglia at 8.15 for 8.30 Mass. Her cousin, Agnes Ryan, and her two children, Mary and Kitty, were in the car with her. As she came to Timothy O'Connell's gate, he came out, driving an old freight, and drove in front of her.

"PULLED UP SUDDENLY."

She remained about 25 yards behind him. She was driving at about 25 miles per hour but he was doing the same. Nothing happened until near the church, when he pulled up suddenly to pick up passengers and witness crashed into him. He gave no indication that he was stopping, and his brake lights did not show. He stopped in the middle of the road and she had not sufficient room at either side of where he stopped to pass out. Her car was badly damaged as there was a connection for putting a trailer on the back of his car, and this damaged the grill, radiator, and fan belt. She put her foot on the footbrake and only for that there would have been a worse crash.

To Mr. McCarthy—it is a by road which has a rough surface. She originally claimed £60 but she was now claiming £50 to come within the jurisdiction of the Justice Courts. She did not agree that the defendant came gradually to a halt and that she had plenty of opportunity of avoiding striking him.

Agnes Ryan, first cousin of plaintiff, and who was a passenger in plaintiff's car on the occasion, gave corroborative evidence. Defendant, she said, had a reflexion in his car, and witness had a view of this. Defendant said he saw what was coming behind him as his wife was using the reflector to do herself up. Witness said to plaintiff—"You are running into me, stop," and plaintiff said "I can do nothing."

PULLED THE LEVER.

To Mr. McCarthy, witness agreed that in her statement to the Guards she said plaintiff put down her hand and pulled the lever before the crash took place. To Justice—She had no reason to believe that there was anything wrong with the foot brake in Mrs. Ryan's car.

James Ryan, Central Garage, Kilkilane, gave evidence of the cost of repairs to the car. He had carried out a test of the brakes and they were all right.

Garda Whelan, Kilkilane, gave evidence of measurements taken at the scene of the accident, where the road is 19 feet wide. Mrs. Ryan made a statement. He called to Mr. O'Connell's house and asked him if he would care to make a statement; he said "I am not making any statement until I consult my solicitor." Regarding his wife defendant said he was not allowing her to make a statement.

To Mr. McCarthy, plaintiff would have about 91 feet to pass out, or roughly half the road.

CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE.

The Justice, without calling on the defence, and it was obvious on the evidence that there was some negligence on the part of Mrs. Ryan. It was clear that Mrs. Ryan should have been able to stop, since she was going up a hill. Defendant stopped suddenly, but she had time, the Justice thought, to pull up. We must, he said, expect cars in front of us to pull up and we have a duty to take reasonable care to avoid it. She could have pulled up if her brakes were in order. There is a lot to be said against Mr. O'Connell. He had no right to step out in the centre of the road and he should have signalled.

Mr. Lee said that he had proved sufficient negligence on the part of the defendant to put the defendant into the witness box.

The Justice said he was satisfied on the present evidence that defendant did commit negligence but the contributory negligence of the plaintiff was the immediate cause of the accident. He (Justice) would like very much to give Mrs. Ryan a decree against a rich insurance company, but he thought he would be doing a bad service because he felt he would be set aside on appeal.

According to the Justice dismissed the claim on the merits

The United Efforts Of All Are Needed In Nation's Interest

If they were to succeed and prosper as a nation and achieve the way of life for which the patriots of the past had laid down their lives, they would have to unite the efforts of all the nation's children, and all their strength of will and courage.

So declared Mr. Michael Colbert, T.D., surviving G.C. of the West Limerick Old I.R.A. Brigade, when, before a gathering of over 2,000 people at Dromcollogher recently, he unveiled a memorial plaque to three volunteers who lost their lives in the struggle for freedom. The dead volunteers were Lieutenant David Brennan, of Broadford, and Section Commanders Sean O'Farrell and Padraig Buckley, who were burnt to death when carrying out an official I.R.A. order for the destruction of Dromcollogher Courthouse on 20th June, 1920. Also present at Sunday's impressive ceremony, writes our West Limerick staff reporter, was Mr. Jack Barrett, Dromcollogher, only survivor of the four men engaged in the struggle and the heavy sacrifice of life suffered by the men of the I.R.A. Comrades who were divided by the Civil War came together again. They had worked hard and earnestly, never ceasing in their efforts until the task was completed. In this connection, he felt it his duty, on their behalf to pay to a special tribute to the late Ben Sullivan, G.C. of the 3rd Batt., who acted as Chairman of the West Limerick Memorial Committee and whose wise and prudent leadership contributed in no small way to the ultimate success of the Committee's efforts. That success had been due to "large measure to united effort—which went to show what might be possible in other fields of activity."

UNITED EFFORTS OF ALL ARE ESSENTIAL.

"If we are to succeed and prosper as a nation," continued Mr. Colbert, "we will require the united efforts of all the nation's children; all their strength of will and courage; if we are to see the way of life for which these men died down their sons, we must unite. It will be because of their own best and bravest they had to die. Their sacrifices were needed to redeem and save the soul of Ireland. The present and future generations have the responsibility of making proper use of the freedom which was so hardly won at such enormous cost and loss of valuable lives. If they prove worthy of their glorious heritage there can be no doubt that the ultimate victory of our people in the restoration of the occupied portion of our territory, in paying tribute to the patriot dead of our own generation, we must not forget the magnificent work done by the former military and political leaders. We have never refused to acknowledge the great services rendered by men like the late Padraig Pearse and others who rallied the nation and organised a forward drive on the national front. They made use of the weapons which they considered to be the most effective in the circumstances in which they found themselves. They kept the spirit of the people alive in the hearts of the people. We salute their memory as we here to-day salute the memory of our three martyred comrades and all others who fell in the fight for freedom."

VOTE OF THANKS.

Mr. James Duddy proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Michael Colbert, to Father O'Conor, and to all who had assisted in the erection of the memorial plaque. Mr. J. J. Conroy, T.D., Chairman, Ardfinnan County Council, should be proud of the fact that their hall is the first Brigade in Munster, if not in Ireland, who came together for the first time since 1922 to pay tribute to their martyred dead. Under the leadership of the late Ben Sullivan they had, by their united efforts, erected in Newcastle West, one of the finest memorials to be found in any part of the country. The memorial plaque erected in Dromcollogher that day would help to remind present and future generations of boys and girls of the great sacrifices that had been involved in winning the freedom they now enjoy; it would recall to their minds in the native Irish language the gallant efforts of the brave men who made that freedom possible. Like the message of the memorial at Newcastle West, it would recall to their minds that they had been handed down the torch of freedom and that it was their future responsibility to preserve that torch and to ensure that the flag which had been hoisted there that day would never be lowered in the years to come.

Also present on the platform were Messrs. Michael Dwyane, M.C.C.; C. Keane, M.C.C.; M. McCarthy, Dromcollogher.

OLD I.R.A. CONTINGENT.

The Old I.R.A. contingent were under the command of Mr. James Duddy, Limerick, and Michael Sheehy and Owen Sullivan, Batt. Officers. The attendance at the platform also included Mr. Tom Finn, brother of Brigade Comdt. Sean Finn, Rathkeale. Sergeant Hefflin, Dromcollogher, and Gardai from the local and Kilmeedy stations, assisted in the stewarding of the large crowd.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

(BY MARY HARDING)

PRESSING PLEATS.

WHEN pressing any wool garment, use a piece of double material to lay beneath edges of pleats. Sometimes the pressure upon the pleats leaves a mark along the fold.

IRONING LINEN.

Linen need not be starched if it is ironed when completely damp. Any embroidery can be made to stand out by pressure from the wrong side.

CLEANING SILVER.

Table silver needs little cleaning if it is plunged into boiling suds after being already washed in hot water to free it from grease. Thorough drying with a linen cloth should restore the shine.

SAVING TIME.

Unnecessary running about in a busy household can be saved if a certain number of cleaning materials are kept upstairs except when they are brought down, for washing. A bottle of paraffin and a tin of no-gritty scourer are useful in the bathroom.

PREVENTING STICKING.

A small knob of margarine added to the ingredients for a number of dishes helps to keep them from sticking to the pan. This is true of custard, porridge, jams and others.

CAT AND DOG HAIRS.

A cat or dog in the household often means hairs on clothes. Wine with a slightly dampened cloth will remove these before they are brushed in the usual way.

SEND THIS TO A FRIEND IN BRITAIN.The Limerick Association In London.*Patrons:

His Lordship, T. P. O'Neill, Bishop of Limerick.
His Worship, Ald. G. E. Russell, Mayor of Limerick.

The objects of the Association are to bring Limerick people together, and to promote the welfare in every way possible, as well as the welfare of Irish people living in London and the Provinces.

The above aims and object will be promoted by running dances, socials, concerts, film shows, lectures, outings, etc.

We believe that an important part can be undertaken by those already living here to help the rehabilitation, the founding of friendships and the establishment of a bureau where information and help is available to all who need it.

A headquarters of its own is the ultimate aim of the association.

By becoming a member you will play your part in furthering these worthy objects.

Officers and Committee:

Chairman, Mr. T. N. Niama (Bulidgen); Sec. Mr. W. Gleeson (Fethamore); Treas. Mr. J. Cummins (Cappamore); Vice-Chair. Mr. P. O'Donnoghue (City); Assist. Sec. Miss M. Kennedy (Fethamore); Hon. Sec. Mr. J. J. Conroy (Fethamore); Committee—Miss M. Howard (Glenamoy); Rev. S. P. Larkin (City); Messrs. J. Ahern (City); J. Bulfin (Grange); J. Hanrahan (City); P. Hooley (Adare); P. Logan (City); J. Neville (Kilfinane). A. Sullivan (Shanagolden).

(1309)

WHAT'S Notes, Neu

MONEY FOR HOUSING.

THE announcement made in Dáil a few days ago by the Minister for Local Government concerning the financing of houses proposed to be built by persons in their own use has caused a good deal of uneasiness. Hitherto a citizen who needed money to build could borrow under provisions of the Small Dwelling Act, subject to certain specific conditions. For the future, or people who are not in a position to get money from any other source may avail of the Small Dwelling Act. In other words, a means is to be applied to borrowers. It does not sound too good, but Government, it would seem, determined to check borrowing the public expense by people deemed to be in a position to secure advances from Building Societies or other financial corporations.

INTEREST RATES.

People who are facilitated by Small Dwellings Act will get at five and three-quarters cent.; those who may borrow otherwise will be obliged to pay six per cent. In these circumstances it is feared that a slump in building will set in. It should be understood, of course, that the arrangement has no connection with building projects carried by the local authority. Corp housing schemes will be as usual, the Government meeting two-thirds of the charges. Yet, the departure announced in respect of private building has caused a good deal uneasiness and anxiety. Never less, it is possible that the prospect facing borrowers may be eased by a system of guarantees.

S.P.O.C.

To-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock, a meeting of members and supporters generally of the Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children will be held in the Town Hall. The purpose of the meeting is to arrangements for the collection to be held outside all the churches in the city on Sunday next. In connection all who are prepared to offer their services as collectors are requested to attend the meeting and hand in their names. may be taken for granted that collection will be very well supported, for the work being done the Society is deserving of highest praise. It should be borne in mind that, since S.P.C.C. is no longer associated with great Britain, we are expected to finance our own branch. Limerick is not likely to fail meeting this moral obligation. should be of interest to note that during the four months, March collection will be very well supported, for the work being done the Society is deserving of highest praise. It should be borne in mind that, since S.P.C.C. is no longer associated with great Britain, we are expected to finance our own branch. Limerick is not likely to fail meeting this moral obligation.

Arrangements to view and further particulars and conditions of sale from:

C. J. NOONAN,
Solicitor, Newcastle West.

(23-30c)

During the summer months young men desiring to consecrate their lives to God, Religious and Missionary brothers in the Congregation of the Holy Ghost should apply to:

The Reverend Director,Brothers' Juniorate,*DUBLIN.

Those over eighteen years of age apply to:

Father Superior,Holy Ghost Brothers' Novitiate,*Navan.*CO. MEATH.

(my 5-je-2-je-30)

HOLY GHOST BROTHERS,

C.S.Sp.

Young men desiring to consecrate their lives to God, Religious and Missionary brothers in the Congregation of the Holy Ghost should apply to:

The Reverend Director,Brothers' Juniorate,*DUBLIN.

Those over eighteen years of age apply to:

Father Superior,Holy Ghost Brothers' Novitiate,*Ardrumcarr,*Navan.*CO. MEATH.

(my 5-je-2-je-30)

ST. MATTHEW'S HOSPITAL,
BUTTERWOOD, LICHFIELD.
(1,300 MENTAL BEDS).

STAFFORD NURSES (FEMALE)

During the summer months young men desiring to consecrate their lives to God, Religious and Missionary brothers in the Congregation of the Holy Ghost should apply to:

THE FENOX is such a that wonderful remecongestion gives st from the misery of HAY-FEVER.