Follower of the Humble Francis: Incidents in the Life of Father Fidelis Griffin, O.F.M.

(Complied by "Assisi" by T. F. Melody)

MEDITATION OF EXTREMITY

REMEMBERING THE SUFFERINGS of Our Lord Jesus Christ, that he was wounded for our transgressions, bruised for our iniquities, we pray that we may be strengthened by this mystery of faith, that we may imitate his humility and gentleness.

TO THE CHILDREN: These words were written on a sheet of paper that Father Fidelis held in his hand when he preached in the Church of San Francesco in Assisi. He always carried a white cloth with a small cross on it, which he used to wipe the blood from his face.

The cross on his forehead was a sign of his obedience to God. He lived a life of poverty and simplicity, and was known for his kindness and compassion.

HEART AND SOUL OF ALL THE POOR

Father Fidelis deeply understood the suffering of the poor and the suffering of the poor. He was always ready to help them.

He once said, "If I had a thousand silver coins, I would give them all to the poor." He lived by these words, and was known for his generosity.

TO THE WORKING CLASSES: It is from the poor that Father Fidelis learned to understand the hardships of life. He lived among them, and was known for his kindness and compassion.

The working classes were always on his mind, and he worked hard to help them.

SOLD AS HE GOT IT: Flour With Cereal Mites

To the editor, Sir:

I am writing to inform you of a recent incident that occurred in my neighborhood. It seems that the flour used in making bread contains cereal mites, which are harmful to our health.

The flour was purchased from a local bakery, and it was found to be infested with cereal mites. The bakery was informed, but they refused to take responsibility for the incident.

I am writing to warn others about this dangerous practice, and to suggest that they avoid purchasing flour from this bakery.

Yours sincerely,
