

of Lieut. Colonel Blake.

DEATHS.

On Monday, in the 20th year of his age, in Henry-street, John Jacob Marks, Esq. only son of the late Jacob Marks, Esq. of Cork, and nephew to Sir John Godfrey, Bart. of Kilcoleman House, county Kerry.

At Kilsfinn, in this County, on Monday, of cholera, very much lamented, Doctor White, Surgeon to the Kilmallock and Kilsfinn Dispensaries.

Sir John Nugent Humble, Bart. of Cloncoskoran Castle, County Waterford.

At Westpark, near Galway, Mrs. Macnamara, relict of the late Francis Macnamara, Esq. of Doolen, and mother of W. N. Macnamara, Esq. M. P. for Clare.

At Tralee, aged 74 years, Simon Dunn, Esq. late commander of his Majesty's Castle Coote Revenue Cruiser.

John Fitzgerald, Esq. of the Post-Office, Cork.

In Rathkeale, William Burke, Esq. of Rathnasere, in this County, a Gentleman deservedly regretted, not only by his highly respectable relatives, but also by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was generally esteemed as a humane landlord and a steady friend.

At Glenmalire, in the Queen's County, aged 72, respected, esteemed, and beloved, the Very Rev. Thomas Trench, Dean of Kildare.

In Dublin, Christopher B. Roche, Esq.

Mary, only surviving daughter of the late Thomas Deane, Esq. of Cork.

At Galway College, the Rev. Michael J. Lovelock.

Suddenly, in Callan, co. Kilkenny, the Rev. James Hannebery, P. P. of Callan.

At Oughterard, co. Galway, Bidilia, wife of Edmond O'Flaherty, Esq.

In Waterford, Mr. William Hincks, son of Ralph Hincks, of Rosegarland, county Wexford, Esq.

At Kilmore, co. Wexford, John Walsh, Esq. formerly an extensive merchant in Wexford.

In Upper Mount-street, Dublin, Caroline Blanche, wife of William Beauchamp Stoker, Esq. Barrister-at-Law, and second daughter of James O'Reilly, Esq. of Baltrasna, in the county Meath.

At North Great George's-street, Dublin, Mrs. Catherine Handcock.

At Newtownards, Mary, wife of John Patten, Esq. and eldest daughter of David Ruddell, Esq. of Peacefield, near Lurgan.

William Ormsby, Esq. many years Marshal of the Four Courts Marshalsea, Dublin.

At Roan House, Tipperary, John Purcell, Esq.

At Obeg, county Waterford, John Foley, Esq.

The Rev. William O'Keefe, R. C. C. Mitchelstown.

At Ballina, Mayo, the Rev. William M'Corcock, Wesleyan Minister.

At Boulogne-sur-Mer, Lieut. Col. Henry Charles Dickens, late commanding the 34th Regiment.

In Honduras, of fever, Francis Balfour, Esq. third son of Blaney T. Balfour, Esq. of Townley Hall, co. Louth.

The Hon. William Leigh Canning Sinclair, aged 8 years, second son of the Earl of Caithness.

At Southampton, Isabella, daughter of the late Charles Hamilton, Esq. of Hamwood, county Dublin.

In Melville-street, Edinburgh, the infant son of Colonel Mayne, C. B.

In Essex-street, London, Andrew Edge, Esq. aged 74, Clerk of the Outer Treasury in the Court of King's Bench, and Filazer for the counties of Essex and Monmouth.

In Curzon-street, May-fair, Twisleton Alston, Esq. only son of Sir Charles Alston, Bart.

At Mount-pleasant, Swansea, Captain Geo. Jones, R. N.

At Guernsey, Lieut. Colonel William Irving, late of the 28th Regiment.

Suddenly, at Van Dieman's Land, Captain W. Hughes, 63d Regiment.

At Fifehead, aged 96, Mrs. Gifford, mother of Vice-Admiral Gifford.

At Florence, Captain James Stuart Brisbane, only son of the late Commodore Sir James Brisbane, C. B.

At Ramsgate, Ann, relict of Lieut. Colonel T. Mitchell, late of Harbledown, near Canterbury.

The infant son of Joseph Thorp, Esq. of Walthamstow.

At the Vicarage-house, Great Chesterford, Essex, the residence of her son-in-law, the Hon. and Rev. R. F. King, aged 75 years, Alexie Ross.

In Liverpool, James Lowe, jun. Esq. Solicitor.

At Boyston, aged 81, Sir W. Strickland, Bart. He is succeeded in his title and estate by his son George Strickland, Esq. one of the members for the West Riding of York.

At Bath, the Hon. Captain Frederick Noel, R. N.

At Niagara, North America, Colonel R. Leonard, late 10th Foot.

I.—Satires and Epistles of Horace, with Prolegomena and English Notes, original and selected. By John M'Cauley, A.M., F.C.D. Cloth, lettered. Price 10s. 6d.

II.—Analysis of the Metres in the Hecuba, and Medea of Euripides, giving the scansion, of every line. Price 6s. or separate, 3s. 6d. each.

III.—Kennedy's Homer. Books 1 to 8. New Edition. Price 9s.

A Literal Translation of ditto. Price 4s. 6d.

IV.—Kennedy's Homer. Books 9 to 16. Price 9s.

A Literal Translation of ditto. Price 4s. 6d.

Vol. 3, containing Books 17 to 24, is in the Press, and will shortly be published.

V.—Geoghegan's Cyropædia of Xenophon. Books 1 to 3. Price 6s.

A Literal Translation of ditto. Price 3s.

VI.—Walker's Lucian. New Edition. Price 9s. bound.

A Literal Translation of ditto. Price 3s.

VII.—Spillan's Lucian, with Alphabetical Vocabulary. Price 7s. bound.

VIII.—The Fasti of Ovid, with copious English Notes. By Thynne. Price 5s.

A Literal Translation of ditto. Price 2s. 6d.

IX.—Prendeville's Cæsar. Books 1 to 5. Price 5s. 6d. bound.

X.—Prendeville's improved Edition of Patrick's Terence, 8vo. Price 15s.

XI.—Hawkesworth's Cæsar, Books 1 to 5, with an Inter-linear Translation. Price 4s. bound.

And in a few days will be Published a New and much Improved Edition of Baillie's Ovid, with English Notes.

January 15.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

M<sup>r</sup>. WILLIAM FREWEN, of the ROYAL SHADES HOTEL, having seen an advertisement in the Limerick Chronicle of last Saturday, in which he is declared not to be the heir at law of THOMAS FREWEN, M.D., takes leave to lay before the Public the following statement of facts:—

That his unhappy parent is, at this moment, labouring under strong mental delusion, owing to the influence of a wretched female, who exercises over him an uncontrolled dominion, and who (through interested motives) has ever been the relentless enemy of his children.

That, in the year 1831, she accompanied Dr. FREWEN to Dublin in the character of his niece, both assuming fictitious names: she passing under that of Mrs. Geary, and he under that of Dr. Cash, and residing at the house of Miss Rourke's, Upper Stephen-street.

That this unhappy man, instigated by this vile female (still striving to entrap him into marriage) forgetting his children, his character and his principle, has, in a moment of delirium, given publication to an advertisement, which, while it attempts to cast an odium on his child, must inevitably and publicly stigmatize himself as an unkind parent and infatuated dupe.

That Mr. William Frewen has abundant proof to convince those interested that he alone is the "heir at law" of his unfortunate parent; and that the deed alluded to in the advertisement, in which he is declared to be such, was drawn up by the late JOHN FITZGERALD, Esq. Attorney-at-Law, and witnessed by Messrs. O'GRADY and FITZGERALD, junior—duly and deliberately signed by his father, Doctor FREWEN, thro', as it declares, "his natural love and affection for him"—that it is registered in Dublin, and that no legal form was wanting whereby it should be rendered perfect.

That the "peculiar circumstances" spoken of, are these—a revival of the natural affection of a parent on the sight of a long absent son—a wish to reinstate him in those rights, at the deprivation of which his weakness had long connived, and a determination, as he himself styled it, "that the Brats of his brother should not inherit the portion of his children." These are the "peculiar circumstances" of which he now thinks expedient to repent.

That Mr. WM. FREWEN invites both the interested and the curious to a full investigation of his rights; that he is determined that the ashes of his mother shall not be rudely scattered by the calumny of a husband (even tho' it may place the existence of the latter within the pale of outraged law); that he warns society from negotiating with either his father or his uncle, with respect to the Lands of Stradbally, without first consulting him; that he will now, persecuted as he is, enter the field with the powerful and the malignant—prove his own honour, and, while he flings the gauntlet of defiance, proudly, but conscientiously, exclaim, "My God defend the right."

Limerick, Jan. 14, 1834.