sire, and goodwill to achieve the great ject in view will be maintained to the id. It will be observed from the several peeches delivered at Saturday's inaugural thering that there is no disposition to aste time in oratory, but an evident eager-ss to tackle the programme arranged on usiness lines and get things through as eedily as possible, seeing that, as Mr Lloyd eorge remarked, "The world is thirsting r peace and work."

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr Wilson's Return to Washington.

Mr Wilson's stay in Paris is now, in all obability, half over. In another month he will, ording to present plans, have started, or be out to start, for the United States, his presence Washington being necessary during the closing ys of Congress. It is an open secret (says the imes" correspondent), that Mr Wilson hopes at by the date of his departure the groundwork inciples will have been reached for a League of ations, which, thanks in no small degree to his fluence, is taking its place in the forefront of the ference programme. There is reason to believe at he contemplates returning to Paris later if e circumstances appear to demand his presence.

GAIETY THEATRE.

A highly attractive programme was presented the Gaiety Theatre last night at the two uses. Premier position was assigned to Mr nglas Fairbanks' newest and biggest success, eaching for the Moon," described as an artistic ocial production. "Reaching for the Moon" mpletely rivetted the attention; it is an absorb-; dramatic work, highly picturesque, and mful of the most exquisite incidents. Last ght it was very cordially received, and no one quest of a really good picture should miss seeing when it will be again produced to-night and morrow night. The exploits of the celebrated atty" at Coney Island constitute a genuine edy, in which laughter is provoked and tained all through. It is well designated as a e comedy. On Thursday, Friday, and Satury the proprietors present the beautiful Triangle y "In Slumberland," and on Monday next successful film portraying Charlie Chaplin in oulder Arms" will be the principal feature of Gaiety series of interesting and entertaining ilities.

The guard round Amerongen Castle has been reduced to 27 gendarmes.

Tipperary town, for the purposes of a stud farm.
Friarsfield, which comprises about 170 acres, is beautifully enclosed, well watered and fenced, and with ample accommodation in the matter of paddocks, was the home of such celebrated sires as Jock, Sunstroke, Lord Ronald, Rhidorrigh, Palm Leaf, and several others.

POPULAR OFFICER PROMOTED.

His friends in Limerick and Kerry, and indeed in the Province, will be very pleased to learn, however much they may feel his departure, of the promotion of Mr M. J. Collins, Senior Clerk in the Limerick Branch Inland Revenue (Taxes). He was four years at the Limerick Offices, coming here from Tralee, and no more obliging, courteous, and capable officer has filled the position in Limerick, which he now leaves to take up his new duties for Dublin No 3 District. Mr Collins, who was a general favourite and made many friends while in Limerick, takes over office in Dublin this week.

LIMERICK SOLDIER'S HEROIC SACRIFICE.

Remarkable self-sacrifice has been made by Gunner P. Quinlivan, R.F.A., whose father lives at Garryowen. While in a base hospital in France where a badly wounded comrade was a patient, medical opinion came to the conclusion that if his life was to be saved he should have a transfusion of blood. Gunner Quinlivan instantly volunteered to make the sacrifice which had the effect of saving the comrade's life. Three years ago Gunner Quinlivan joined the Army, and was engaged in some of the heaviest fighting of the Western theatre. Before joining the colours he was employed at Messrs W. J. Shaw and Son.
He has a brother, Thomas Quinlivan, also in the Royal Field Artillery, and a sister in Queen Mary's Auxiliary Corps.

DEATH OF MR WILLIAM O'CONNELL.

We regret to announce the death of Mr William O'Connell, which took place at his residence, No. 2 Thomas-street, yesterday morning at an advanced age. The deceased had only been ailing for a short time, and up to his indisposition he took an active and keen interest in business. He was a well-known member of the victualling trade in the city, and one of the best known dealers in cattle in the South of Ireland. He had a practical knowledge of the trade in all its branches, and was a man of tireless energy in the prosecution of his extensive business dealings. Prior to the passing of the Local Government Act he was a member of the Borough Council, in which he took a deep interest. His demise is very much regretted by very many friends who held him in high esteem.
