

Principles of Life Assurance advantages so justly apprehended is required. The duty of those to which life is subject to all persons engaged in the Army, and Navy, Law, in other Professional men; and upon their own exertions to enable them to provide for themselves and families, is evident. Its other advantages may be offered to Creditors by Assurers; Fines payable on realty may be provided whenever they are effected on Life Interest, and may be secured; Marriage settlements, the affairs of the Company terminating ending 31st December, hereby ascertained to have been apportioned among the shareholders on the scale, for the whole term of the Company's standing, in proportion to the shares held, and appropriated, at the rate of 10 per cent. as a Reversionary Bonus, and the balance to come a claim, or its value to be paid on subsequent premiums. The rate of 31 per cent. on the premiums for the first five years. The equivalent rate for the next five years. The profits of the Life Assurance to any diminution from pay- ments.

This Company is founded on the most sound consideration; and to the most advantaged of the most of its kind that have been in existence. The rates of premium and a policy are moderate. The soundness of its principles and influence exercised by the Company on a sure basis; have been so considerable as to attract the policy holders.

Adopted by this company have the most experienced, and are calculated on correct principles as evidence of the public.

Company are allowed to reside in any part of Europe; and to pass by the most decked vessels and steamships, from one port to another, without any delay, and without obtaining permission of the authorities.

It may be charged on the Lives of Officers, unless they enter or are called on to retire, at the lowest rate consistent with the interests of the Company.

Correct data, have been spent on Lives of officers in the Army, and on the East India Company; and on proceeding to any part of the world, on terms commensurate with the interests of the Company.

Either by even annual payments; or by payments for a limited term, or by an ascending scale. The most liberality exercised by the Company in the payment of claims, the Company will assuredly die within one month after the claim becomes due, provided the claimant has complied with the stipulated period.

(where no fraud is suspected,) the claims may be referred to arbitration. Fees of any kind are exacted for the management of Policies beyond the cost of the Company.

JAMES MARSHALL
WILL SELL BY AUCTION WITHOUT RESERVE
On Saturday, 1st Feb, 1845.

AT THE LIMERICK COMMERCIAL MART.
COMMENCING AT ONE O'CLOCK,

THE Interest in a Deed of Assignment of the Lands of DERRYGIHA and BOHIODEEN, in the Barony of Clonderalaw and County of Clare, containing 78 Acres, Irish plantation measure, of which there is a term of 32 years unexpired. They are at present sett to Pierce Carriek, Esq. of Ennis, and yield a clear annual profit of £120. The lands are chattled, being for a term of years, and no head rent payable.

Also the interest in the lease of that well-built double Store and two Kilns (capable of containing 10,000 barrels of corn) with capital Dwelling house and Yard thereto attached, situated in Robert-street, adjoining the Corn Market, in the City of Limerick, all in excellent repair, and subject to the small head rent of £14 per annum. The Store is at present sett to Messrs. Fisher and Quinlivan, and the Dwelling house to Mr. James Hickey; this lot yields an annual profit rent of £100 and there is a term of 180 years unexpired of the lease.

The Auctioneer in calling particular attention to the above really valuable investments, respectfully impresses on the mind of the capitalist that so desirable a purchase as either of the above, is not often in the market. The properties are much enhanced by being set to such respectable and wealthy tenants, and the title of each is so perfectly clear, which can be ascertained and every other information on application to JOHN RYAN, Esq. Solicitor, Charleville; GEORGE FITTON, Esq. 17, Lower Gardiner-street, Dublin; or at the office of JAMES MARSHALL, Auctioneer, Henry-street, Limerick.
