CORNS AND BUNIONS.

Paul's Every Man's Friend

IS a sure and speedy cure for those painful Corns, without causing the least pain or inconvenience. Unlike all other remedies for operation is such as to render the cutting of altogether unnecessary, and being prepared of softest kid leather, it adheres with the most pressure, produces an instant and delightful relief from torture, and, with perseverance in its application, entirely eradicates the most inveterate and bunions.

Copy of a letter from Major White, of Port...

' 81, St. Thomas's-street, Port...

' 11th January, 184...

' SIR,—I have much pleasure in certifying that a great benefit I have received from your corn plaster, named, "Paul's Every Man's Friend."

' When I had a very bad corn at the ball of my foot, which I had reason to fear would lame for life, I tried numerous applications of the best advice without effect, until at length I purchased of you a box of "Paul's Every Man's Friend," by following the directions which accompanied it, I soon had the delight to find, that in the course of a few days it caused the hard part of the corn to fall away, which was replaced by new soft skin gradually, until a short time the corn was quite cured; and has continued so far up to the present year. I have since tried this corn plaster on several cases, and also have other persons, with the same success; and I have not the least hesitation in recommending that it will generally prove efficacious if the corns be properly attended to and prevented. I can have no objection to your making use of this communication, if you think proper of this letter, for the benefit of other sufferers.

' I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

' H. The Misses Reeve, of Alton, Hants. John Reeve, Esq. comedian, were cured of very painful soft Corns, after every other remedy had failed.

Prepared by John Fox, in Boxes, at three in one for 2s. 9d. and to be had of 232, Blackfriar's-road, and all Wholesale Medicine Venders in Town and Country. The name of John Fox, on the 2s. 9d. box cures the most obdurate corns.

INDIGESTION.

Humphreys' Camomile Pills.

THE attention of the Public is again respectfully invited to this popular and valuable Family Medicine, which, during the Four Years it has been before the Public, has acquired a celebrity unparalleled in modern discoveries. Such has been the extraordinary demand which the Proprietor has experienced, that during the first four months of this year he supplied to one house no less than four thousand boxes; and wherever a trial has been made, the most cheerful testimony has been borne to their invaluable efficacy.

Mr. HUMPHREYS has received the most flattering voluntary testimonials from numerous parties who have received benefit from their use; but as the limits of an Advertisement are necessarily too circumscribed to publish the whole, he must content himself with merely quoting the following recent case, selected from some hundreds:—

" TO MR. HUMPHREYS, NOTTINGHAM.

" SIR—For nearly twenty years past I have been afflicted with pains in the head, sickness, and other symptoms of a disordered stomach, for which I have tried various medicines and obtained very little (if any) benefit, until I was induced to make a trial of your valuable Camomile Pills, from which, after taking two or three boxes, I found speedy and entire relief.

" So severe and frequent were my attacks, that for several days in a week I have been unable to attend to any business, but by the occasional use of your Pills, my health is greatly improved, my appetite increased, and the attacks are considerably milder, as well as less frequent.

" I think it a duty to my fellow-creatures to make this communication, which you are at liberty to use as you think proper, and I will gladly answer any questions to the similarly afflicted.

" I am, Sir, yours respectfully,

" THOMAS TOWERS."
