THE QUEEN'S HOTEL,

Late Gresham.

THE Public is respectfully informed that the above Hotel is now open for business, under new management.

The Establishment has undergone thorough and extensive repairs, and while it is hoped that its decorations will present the same elegance to the eye, the Hotel will be found equally well adapted to afford all the comfort for which it was formerly so long distinguished.

The late auspicious visit of Her Most Gracious Majesty to Ireland has suggested the above alteration in its name.

The Proprietor takes leave to assure the numerous patrons of the Establishment that nothing shall be omitted on his part to render it for the future fully deserving their favour and support, and that in entering upon this new undertaking he is not unconscious of its magnitude, and that it will be particularly incumbent upon him to revive the high character which the QUEEN'S (formerly Gresham's), held for so many years in public estimation.

Sackville-street, Dublin, Jan. 10.

DEATHS.

On Sunday last, at Glina, in this County, John Reidy, Esq. formerly of Tallyho Lodge, and subsequently Master of Rathkeale workhouse.

At Richmond Villa, in this County, on Saturday, Anne, the beloved wife of Geo. Ievers Bolater, Esq. to the deep regret of her afflicted family and numerous friends, to whom she was endeared by her many virtues and amiable disposition. She was a fond parent, an attached wife, and a sincere friend. She died in the Lord her God, in whom alone she put her trust, awaiting a happy resurrection through the merits of a crucified REDEEMER. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord: even so saith the Spirit: for they rest from their labours."

At Shepherd Hill, Miltown Malbay, on the 24th instant, Louisa Morony, daughter of John Morony, Esq. late of the Clare Regiment.

On the 22d inst. at Newcastle, in this County, in the 54th year of his age, Mr. Robert Cussen, proprietor of the Courtenay Arms Hotel. His loss will be felt as a calamity by the labouring and poorer classes, to whom he gave employment, and was endeared by his benevolence.
