

if the shaft, and while in the act of doing of his shirt-sleeves got foul, and he was found two large wheels which were rotating at rate. Mr. James O'Flynn, junior, one of the proprietors of the mills, just came in, and tried to shut down the engine, otherwise the man would have been mangled beyond recognition. After being taken off it was found that his injuries were serious, and a priest and doctor were sent for. After suffering considerably, the unfortunate man succumbed five hours later, and his death has caused great regret in the locality. A service was held last evening on the remains, and the coroner's inquest has been held, all the necessary evidence having been tendered, and a verdict of death was granted for the attendance of the Board of Factories.

Y.M.A. LITERARY CLASS.

On Friday night, Mr. B. Bennett (President of the Y.M.A.), occupied the chair, and said he was pleased to say Mr. Gilbert, their lecturer for that evening, had been suddenly taken seriously ill the day before and was unable to be present. His secretary, however, had sent on the manuscript of the "Samuel Lover" and the slides to illustrate the same. In addition he said they had all the ladies and gentlemen present who had arranged to contribute to the fund, which was of a high class literary nature, and he called on Mr. J. E. Galbraith to read the first slide, which was of a high class literary nature. The slides shown, numbering about twenty, included the handwork of Samuel Lover, as well as nine songs contributed, of which the following are the names, together with the contributors:—"Widow Machree," Mr. E. L. Wick; "What will you do, Love,?" Miss Dowd; "The Precentor Adlerley;" "Rory O'More," Mr. Trousell; "The Angel's Whisper," Miss Dowd; "The Low Backed Car," Mr. R. Gullen; "Bawn," Rev. Precentor Adlerley, M.A.; "Not myself at all," Mr. R. Gullen; "The Tempter," Miss Dowd; and "The Land of the Living," Miss Alexander. The rendering of the songs was much applauded by the audience. Mr. Spratt accompanied at the piano, and the evening was worked by Mr. B. Barrington. A vote of thanks to the ladies and gentlemen responsible for the success of the evening brought the proceedings to a close.

LATE INSPECTOR GILLIGAN.

A testimonial has been opened for the family of the late John Gilligan, Inspector of Nightmen. Owing to his long and severe illness in life and five children were left wholly unprotected for, and subscriptions will be thankfully received by any of the following for this noble cause:—T. Ryan (Mayor), Wm. Barry, J.P. (High Sheriff), James F. Barry, (Coroner), James Flynn (Cruise's Hotel), J. O'Sullivan, solicitor, Thade O'Connor, D. J. Crowe, A. Donovan, James O'Connor, secretary, 11, Athlunkard-street. Subscriptions will be acknowledged in the Press.

KILMALLOCK RACES

The Committee of the above fixture are to be congratulated on the energy they are displaying in carrying out after a lapse of some years this meeting will be held on March 21st.

Talbot, who left England in August to visit the grave of Lieutenant Boyd Alexander at Maifoni, a British post near Lake Chad, had met with an untoward fate. The family were in cable communication a few days ago with Miss MacLeod, who was then going on to Lagos.

KILLED ON THE LINE.

On Saturday, shortly before midnight, the wife of Rev. John Cooke, incumbent of St. John's, Littlehampton, was found dead on the line at Rustington, near Littlehampton. The head was severed from the body.

ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL.

1st March, Ash-Wednesday.—Matins and Litany, 11.30 o'clock; Chants, Proper Psalm VI., Turlie, D minor; Service, Benedictus, Dykes in F; Hymns, 139 and 165; Litany (Tallis); Communion Service.

CASTLECONNELL WOMAN'S TRAGIC END.

The body of an old woman named Mrs. Tierney, who resided on the "bog road," Castleconnell, was found in a ditch at the side of the road, a short distance from her home on Sunday morning. From particulars to hand it would appear that on Saturday morning deceased left Castleconnell by train for Limerick, and having transacted her business returned on the 6 p.m., leaving the city. Instead of going on to Castleconnell, which was the station she had booked for, she alighted by mistake at Lisnagry, and proceeded on foot homewards. The night was very dark, and it is surmised that the old woman lost her way, with the result that she fell into a ditch which was half full of water. Owing to her infirmity she was unable to extricate herself from the ooze, and died from the cold and exposure. A young man passing the way on Sunday morning observed the body, and at once communicated with the police. The doctor was also sent for, but on arrival he pronounced life extinct. The body was subsequently removed to deceased's home. An inquest was not deemed necessary.

AT THE RINK.

The Great Monohan gave his last performance on Saturday night before a crowded audience. He also judged the two-step competition, and the lucky winners of the two gold medals were Miss Adams and Master J. Adams. Last night a very enjoyable dance took place, and a large number of couples thoroughly appreciated the magnificent floor. Another dance is announced for St. Patrick's Eve, 16th March. To-night a Rink Cup Hockey Match will take place, bully off 9.15 p.m. The Rink will be closed on Ash-Wednesday. On Thursday night a novelty is in store, namely, Comic Hockey Match, Harena v. Hobbles. This is also Lucky Number Night.

Sociality of the B.V.M.

NORTH LOUTH

Mr. Roche to O'Connell

At a Convention at the auspices of the United Augustines Roche, of the North Louth constituency, was selected as a candidate for the coming election, the result of the North Louth election, Mr. Roche is debarred from representing the constituency for three years. Cardinal Logue has been elected to the constituency from the contest beyond recording.

Sequel to the

In the Courthouse, D. Mr. Justice Gibson announced that nineteen persons appealed that they should not be returned to the Commons for their conduct in the North Louth election. In every instance where further evidence before the Court.

THE PADDOCK

A heavy entry forward of calf heifers, 9 dairy cows again well represented. The heifers were the right standard dairies. Buyers present drawn from a wider area than usual, and a suitable demand was met. The advance from the previous day's quotations. The best of the day's quotations. The price of the sale again was £19 10s. Mr. Norris had the best class ranging from made £5 10s.

Following are the prices:—Mr. M. West, £13; Mr. R. S. De Vere, £10s; Mrs. Mammell, £10s; Mr. R. S. Welsh, two Mr. Maurice Welsh, five Mr. James O'Connell, five Mr. John Greene, seven Mr. A. White, two, £14; Hickey, six, £15 to £14 five, £17 to £15 10s. six, £18 15s. to £15 1 five, £10 5s. to £16 15s. £19 10s. (top price) O'Brien, six, £18 5s. to five, £18 5s. to £15 5 £16 15s. to £14; Mr. £13 17s. 6d.