Female Poor School, Barrack-street—To-morrow, the cause of 400 poor children will be ably advocated by the Rev. James O'Regan, O. S. F. at St. Michael's Chapel. This School has been established for nine years; it has been visited by the liberal and enlightened of all religions; its plan approved of; the progress of its moral effect on the lower orders exemplified from their introduction to habits of industry, qualifying them for the discharge of the several duties of their humble but honest calling. These super-added to the advantages of an education, teaching them charity and good works, are surely a proud remuneration to the founders, and to the benevolent individuals who liberally support it. The School is under the superintendence of the Ladies of St. Clare, whose unceasing exertions are devoted to impress upon the tender minds of youth the morality and rectitude. The Sermon on to-morrow will be attended by the Hon. Mrs. Quib, Mrs. W. McGrath Fitzgerald, Mrs. Norcott, &c. &c. Hon. Richard Fitzgibbon, Captain O'Grady, the High Sheriff, Colonel Bourke, John Browne, Esq. &c. &c. who have kindly undertaken to act as Collectors on the occasion. The Sermon will commence at half past Two. Several Pieces of Sacred Music will be performed, Mrs. Kelly of Drury-lane, having offered her services.
