

rs we could not ascertain. We in- they do not announce the new ar- her refer to Mr. Martin's motion, for an address to the Prince Re- ly of forming an efficient and ex- n—Ministers being desirous, per- m, of mustering all their strength, tion of retaining office, in oppo- vote of the House of Commons. above, we learn, that the clerks of sen occupied this morning, in pre- being the intention of Ministers to members of Parliament now out he negociation for forming a new l involved in mystery. We believe has not been broken off, though decisive arrangements had taken be little or no doubt of the ac- the leading members of the Op- tion with Marquis Wellesley and cause of the delay in forming the vill doubtless be explained hereaf- period the public should suspend

THE ENGLISHMAN.

e to state that nothing decisive has rds the formation of a new Minis- the last week has passed in fruitless en the leading men of the different anagement first of Lord Wellesley, and next of both these noble Lords n. It is to be hoped that the no- in the House of Commons, by Mr. on Wednesday for a second address the Prince Regent, will lead to a ent before that day arrives. Should disappointed, we understand that on, by a numerous party in both the Dukes of Rutland, Northum- h, Beaufort, Portland, Newcastle, Marquis of Stafford, the Earls of svenor, Lord Hardwood, Lord Geo. eral other noblemen and gentlemen independence, and large property, in an early day, for the purpose of peditency, in the present alarming ountry, of humbly requesting that the Prince Regent will be pleased ration, composed of other respecta- those who belong either to Lord try, or to their decided political

THE PENINSULA.

n received from Lord Wellington's ch were at Fuente Guinaldo on the day they were preparing to cele- egent of Portugal's birth day. The movement, but Lord Wellington very able officers, Major Sturgeon repair the Alacantra, the beautiful ch the enemy had destroyed. The at as soon as this bridge is repaired, ch by it back to the south, and again of the battle of Fuente d'Honor was Lisbon and at head quarters. At the Marshal gave a splendid enter- Wellington, his staff, and a number here was a ball in the evening given dies.

letter rather of an older date from ch describes in high terms the ex- te Spaniards every where shewed on very town the cavalry came into, Sir colled the females together and gave nself tripping it on the light fantastic own he does in an unrivalled manner of the Spanish Belles.

iment and 42d, with detachments of arching up from Lisbon to join the were much wanted. It is supposed would make inwards into Spain. are recovering fast, daily joining their ishing for nothing so much as another army.

commanded the wing of the army far- to the north, and Sir Rowland Hill the in advance of Badajoz: the Hero of ding the centre. As Lord Wellington g the army and bringing up every body immediate movement was expected to and that a blow would be struck. Our burning and carrying away flour, contrary to the sta- tute—Guilty.

Samuel Lees, aged 33, a hatter from Denton, for an offence similar to that of the first prisoner, was found —Not Guilty.

Wm. Greenhough aged 43, a weaver from Mottram, for a riot at Tintwistle, and stealing flour from the shop of Elice Berry—Guilty.

J Temple, a weaver, from Londonderry, for a bur- glary and robbery, at Addington, under particularly aggravated circumstances—Guilty.

Forster Roach, Collin Linden, James Wilson, James Bennett, Richard Wood, William Thompson, and Jas. Tomlinson, for unlawfully assembling together in Et- chells, and by numbers and intimidation obtaining from J. Parker, Esq. 7s—All Guilty.

J. Torkington and J. Henshall, for rioting and rob- bing in Pownall Fee and Styall—Guilty.

Richard Lownds; for a robbery at Pownall Fee and Styall—Guilty.

R. Lownds was tried on a second indictment, for as- saulting S. Gregg, and stealing a one pound note from him.—Not Guilty.

S. Lees, T. Etchells, T. Burgess, and Jas. Ratcliffe, for rioting at Bredley, and entering the mill of Joseph Clay—Guilty.

W. Walker, (dignified with the name of Gen. Ludd.) for a riot, and seizing flour from Ralph Booth, at Gee Cross—Guilty.

William Greenhough, Abraham Broadbent, and Jas. Crossland, for destroying machinery, and threatening the life of Robert Thornilly, a manufacturer of cotton —Crossland Guilty; Broadbent and Greenhough—Not Gally.

Greenhough and Crossland were afterwards tried for stealing a one pound note—Not Guilty.

John Haywood, the younger, for a riot at Tintwis- tle—Guilty.

Extract of a letter from Chester, May 30.

"I have just returned from the court house, where I heard sentence of death passed on either fifteen or sixteen of the unfortunate rioters, and about the same number doomed to transportation and imprisonment. From what the judge said in passing the awful sentence I presume that mercy will be extended to many of the transgressors. The General Ludd that was tried and ordered to be transported, is a most ridiculous drunk- en looking old man, and was happy to see such a con- temptible being pointed out as a leader; for such an object, I am persuaded that there is not a treasonable plot (at least) at present of any serious description;— yet it appears, that the swearing system has got to great lengths. I am very much inclined to think that the lower order of the people were not heretofore aware of the dangerous consequences their lawless con- duct was liable to. I thus give you the earliest intel- ligence of the result of the special commission in this court."

Accounts from Newcastle state that tumult and dis- order yet prevailed in Cumberland. On the night of 15th inst. the corn mill at Monkhill, near Carlisle, was broken into by a number of persons, whence not less than 150 stone of oatmeal, and 65 stone of flour, were carried away or wasted. On the 16th, about twelve at night, George Johnson and Margaret Barnes, both of Burgh, were attacked near Coalfieldhill by two men; but footsteps being heard, they thought it prudent to retreat. The persons who came up were C. Robinson, of Drumburgh, and J. Robinson, of Glasson, two in- dustrious men, who had been at Carlisle receiving pay- ment for some work done, and who accompanied the two first mentioned persons. They had not proceeded above half a mile when they were again assailed by a banditti, consisting of seven, who presented their pistols, and, after having much injured the travellers with bludgeons and stones, compelled them to deliver their property.

The report which has been circulated respecting the death of Mr. Perceval having been known at a village near Annan, 24 hours previous to the unfortunate event, we have authority to say is founded upon mis- apprehension. An official inquiry has taken place, and though not finished, there are sufficient grounds to conclude that the report originated from the murder of one of the manufacturers in England in the late dis- graceful riots.—Dumfries Journal.

THE GENERAL ADVERTISER.

LIMERICK—FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1812.

London Journals have been received to the 31st ult. inclusive, for the intelligence they convey we must refer to our preceding columns. The Ministerial ar- rangements not yet decided.

On Thursday last, the dead body of a man name! Freeman, who had been missed for some days previously was thrown on shore at Barna, near Galway, a distance of four miles from the place where he must have fallen into the water.

On the night of Thursday last, a milch cow and ewe, the property of a poor herdsman, in the midst of other cattle of the same species, were most wantonly hanged on the lands of Clooberu, near Edmore, in the coun- ty Galway.

BIRTH,

At Bath, on the 23th ult. the lady of Thos. Jackson<sup>s</sup> of Fanningstown, in this county, Esq. of a son.

On Wednesday last, the lady of Captain Southerland, Adjutant of the Galway Militia, of a daughter.

MARRIED,

At Lismore church, county Cork, the Rev. John Swayne, eldest son of John Swayne, Esq. of Middleton, to Frances, youngest daughter of the Rev. Thomas Crawford, of Lismore.

Saturday last, at Grove house, county Galway, David Wilson, Esq. to Mary, second daughter of the late Martin Kirwan Esq.

In London, J. P. Vincent, Esq. of Chancery-lane, to Miss Parke.

DIED,

On Monday morning last, at his house in Cavendish- row, Dublin, Richard Kirwan, Esq. of Cregg, county Galway, Fellow of the Royal Society, President of the Royal Irish Academy, President of the Dublin Library Society, and member of every Literary Body in Europe.

Monday morning last, in Cork, James Kearney, of Garrett's-town, in that county, Esq. He had nearly arrived at his 80th year, 40 of which he had served his country, as an honest and independent Member of the Irish Parliament.

Suddenly, on Tuesday evening last, in Cork; Doctor Callahan. During the whole of that day he seemed to enjoy excellent health, and was as cheerful as usual; he ate his dinner heartily, and had some friends to spend the day with; at tea hour he was engaged reading a paper, when without the slightest convulsion, he was suddenly snatched away.

A few days ago, at Temple Brady, in this county, most deservedly lamented by his numerous family and acquaintance, Anthony Brady, Esq.

Tuesday night, at the house of his brother, the Rev. John Quarry, of Cork, Charles W. Quarry, Esq.

Suddenly, on Wednesday night, in Wexford, Miss Richards, daughter of the late Thomas Richards; Esq.—She retired from the family to her chamber about 11 o'clock, apparently in good health and spirits; in the morning, when the servant entered her room, she found her on her knees by the bed side, with her head reclined on it. The body was quite cold and lifeless.

EXPORTS:—

The Dunbuck, for Greenock, 31 tons oatmeal, 500 brls oats, 11 brls beans, 212 dozen calf skins, D. Stevenson.—Sirius, for London, 147 tierces pork, Geo. Black: 54 tierces pork, J. Kelly & co.; 30 tierces, 134 brls pork; Creagh & Arthur; 100 tierces, 100 brls pork, 200 baies bacon, E. Ryan & sons; 189 brls beef offal, Luke Mullock.—Renown, for Lisbon, 2900 brls oats, 3 tons butter, R. Nugent.—James and Elizabeth, for Liverpool, 1000 barrels barley, Stein, Brown, and co.—Minerva, for London, 28 tierces, 141 brls pork, J. Lyons; 57 tierces 47 brls do. B. Clanchy; 200 brls do. Ryan & sons; 100 brls do. Geo. Black.—Commerce, for Liverpool, 1690 brls oats, Jas. & Sam. Phelps; Eliza, for Liverpool, 1240 brls barley, Stein, Brown, and co.—Active, for Liverpool, 930 brls barley, Jas. Anglim; 45 cwt feathers, Jas. & A. F. O'Neill.—Bell and Susan, for Liverpool, 850 brls oats, J. & A. F. O'Neill.—Fame, for Liverpool, 1550 brls oats, 5 tierces runnets; J. & A. F. O'Neill.

LIMERICK MARKET.

Prices of Corn, &c. June 5, 1812.

	s.	d.	s.	d.
Wheat per stone.....	3	11	to	4 0
Oats.....	2	0	to	2 0½
Barley.....	1	10	to	1 11
Potatoes.....	0	5	to	0 5½

PRICE OF BUTTER—June 5.

Fulbonds.—1st quality 114s.—2d 110s.—3d 102s.—4th 92s.
Coarse.—1st quality 112s.—2d 108s.—3d 100s.—4th 90s.

NOW PUBLISHED,

And to be had of the different Booksellers in this City, AN ACCOUNT OF THE ISLANDS OF Walcheren and South Beveland,