

gross bigotry and hatred of Europeans, the idolatry and adoration of the Ganges, the worship of Jagannath and other senseless idols, besides the vile artifices of the Bramins to secure a tyrannous domination over the minds and bodies of their unfortunate victims, the Suttee, or burning of their widows at the funeral pile of their departed husbands, eighty nine of these living sacrifices having been made in one small district, in the year 1824. The Rev. Gentleman concluded with a highly interesting account of the wonderful changes wrought among the native population, by the labours of the Christian Missionary, in Bengal and its dependencies.

The Rev. Mr. Masarone, Wesleyan Missionary, demonstrated the beneficial effects of the Society, whose object was not to form a particular system of Church Government, but to diffuse the light of the Gospel to every quarter of the Globe, where its glorious rays would impart life and happiness to mankind. Like the wonderful machine of the ancient philosopher of Syracuse, give but the divine Gospel a resting place, and it has a power equal to moving the world. The Institution was truly Catholic, for it had no sect or party to establish.

The Rev. Mr. Ellis, Missionary from the South Sea and Sandwich Islands, exhibited a most interesting picture of the state of religion, society and manners, in this fertile and happy field of Missionary enterprise, so lately the scene of heathenism and human sacrifice. In the course of his observations, he exposed to view of the meeting, a curious figure of an idol, a mishapen thing about 18 inches in length, formed out of the husk of a cocoa nut tree, and for years the object of adoration among the Islanders. Mr. Ellis concluded his discussion with a very happy application of the 115th Psalm, 5th, 6th, and 7th verses. Before the assembly separated, a collection was made to promote the object of the Society—and a Branch Meeting formed for this district.

John Canty, who prosecuted some persons to conviction at our last County Assizes, died yesterday in consequence of poison having been administered to him by a man who had undertaken to cure him of a complaint which he laboured under for some time.—An inquest will be held on the body in the course of the day.

On Monday last, a man was murdered in an affray near Ballingarry, by a blow of a stone, returning from the fair, having been knocked down and jumped upon.

On Friday evening, a most savage outrage took place in the village of Knockany, where a party of five or six men, headed by Patrick Connell, smith, of Hospital, of infamous notoriety, went to the house of Michael Harty, an honest and industrious Publican, against whom Connell had an old grudge. The party, on entering the house, called for liquor, and being well primed before, they broke the furniture and demolished the windows of the house, beat Harty most unmercifully with stones which they had in their pockets, and Connell stabbed him with a small knife, inflicting two wounds in the breast, and one in the fleshy part of the thigh. Connell fled across the fields, and was pursued by the peasantry of the village with a most praiseworthy zeal, to a farmer's house, which they surrounded, and sent to Hospital for a party of Mr Doolan's very efficient Police, who dragged the delinquent from the top of a bedstead where he was concealed.—He is now safely lodged in the Jail of this County, and Harty lies dangerously ill.

Last week, Catherine Leary, of Coolators, near Ferns, was barbarously murdered, by a ruffianly neighbour, named Murphy, who fractured her skull with a spade.—The assassin is apprehended.

Friday last, an inquest was held at Waterford, on the body of Eleanor Murphy, believed to have been murdered by her husband, by trade a stone-cutter. The unfortunate woman had been delivered of an infant the Saturday previous only. Jealousy, that awful passion, is reckoned the cause of the fatal deed.

On Saturday, James Bennett, Esq. Coroner, held an inquest at Dawrenstown, on the body of a female unknown, who was found dead by the roadside. It is lamentable to be told, that the facts elicited, in course of evidence, confirmed the suspicion of the ill-fated woman having come to her death from absolute want of the necessaries of life.

On Thursday night, nine sheep, the property of various poor farmers, between Adare and Patrick's-Well, were cruelly plucked of their wool, by some inhuman miscreants.

Last night, four men attempted to force an entrance into Ballygrenan House, near this City, the property of Captain Johnston, but did not succeed, though a sledge was applied to the hall-door. They demanded fire-arms, and broke nearly forty pains of glass with stones, one of which struck Mrs. Jennings in the face.

The income of the Harbour Commissioners of Cork, for the last year, was 7,063*l.* and the expenditure 6,764*l.* The duty on imports and exports was 3,988*l.*

The Mendicant Asylum of Waterford was forced open on Thursday night, and robbed of 50 to 60 stons of potatoes.

THE THEATRE.—On Friday evening, Mr. Fitz-Waylet, made his first appearance in our Theatre in the character of Othello.—From him "much was expected," and as far as our conception of the Drama goes, he has not disappointed that expectation.—His conceptions of the Author were finely and feelingly portrayed, particularly in the scenes with Iago. He appears to be a gentleman peculiarly suited to the first walks of Tragedy. Mr. F. Jones's Iago was a capital piece of acting; and Miss Edmiston's Desdemona excellent; Mrs. Pindar made her first appearance as Roxalana, in the Sultan.—This lady is a most desirable acquisition to the Company—her figure is tall

In Adare, on Sunday morning, of a malignant fever, after five days' illness, aged fourteen, to the inexpressible grief of her family and friends, Elizabeth, only daughter of William Fosbery, Esq. This interesting young lady was universally beloved by those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, and promised to be an ornament to society and a real blessing to those with whom she was more nearly connected. But it has pleased the Almighty Disposer of events to remove the budding flower from this cold and fleeting world, to bloom in a glorious and never-ending summer. It is, however, a strong consolation to her afflicted parents that from earliest youth she manifested a sincere degree of piety, embellished with the most endearing and benevolent manners; and from the firm reliance she reposed in her Redeemer's atoning blood, they feel convinced that she is now at peace, and in the enjoyment of a blessed immortality.
