DEATHS.

On Sunday last after a tedious illness occasioned by the bursting of a blood-vessel, Thomas Stuart, Esq. of this City—through life he was known as a man of the strictest honor and integrity, and of him it may in truth be said, "he was true and just in all his dealings."—His deeply afflicted family have the consolation to know that he died firmly relying on the full and perfect atonement made by his Lord and Saviour.

endear his memory to all.

On Monday, at his lodgings in Thomas-street, the Rev.

Thomas Therry, P. P. of Broadford, a Clergyman very generally lamented. Mr. Therry had been for many years

Curate of Nenagh, and acquired the affections of his flock by a zealous and faithful discharge of his Gospel duties, while his social qualities rendered him highly attractive
