

which the plaintiff and respondent was Edward Kerin, the action being for £7 11s 3d, for kelp, sold and delivered.

Judge Bodkin gave a decree for £7 14s 3d, with £1 7s costs and 10s expenses.

His Lordship affirmed the decree, and varied the amount to £1 0s 5d.

Same counsel appeared.

In a third action Mr. Carroll was appellant and Michael O'Dea was plaintiff and respondent. The action was to recover £14 7s. 6d for the price of kelp sold and delivered. The County Court Judge had given a decree for £14 and £2 9s. costs and 10s. expenses.

His Lordship affirmed the decree, and varied the amount to £7 19s. 9d.

In a fourth case, in which Mr. Carroll was appellant, John Cullinan was the plaintiff and respondent. The claim was for £5 6s. for kelp, sold and delivered. The County Court Judge gave a decree for the full amount, with £1 7s. costs and 10s. expenses.

His lordship reversed the decision of the lower court, and dismissed the action.

Only one set of costs was allowed in the four cases.

SERIES OF FATALITIES.

Three Sudden Deaths in Ballina.

Yesterday morning a series of sensational fatalities happened at Ballina.

A woman named Mrs. Battle while taking her breakfast dropped dead.

A man named Clarke while attending to his business at the market also dropped dead.

A man named George Bagnall, 60 years, while driving a young horse drawing a ton of manure tripped and was knocked under the cart. The wheel passed over his chest, and he was killed instantaneously.

THE CORPORATION.

A special meeting of the Borough Council is to be held on Thursday night, and the agenda is a pretty full one, comprising, as it does, no less than 39 items of more or less general interest for consideration. The Council will be asked to appoint two visiting justices to the Limerick District Prison for the period to Summer Assizes, 1912, and will also have under consideration a number of applications relative to the revision of the city valuation.

and that everyone in the community was satisfied—the labourers, ratepayers, and users.

Mr. O'Connell proposed a vote of thanks to the Mayor for presiding, which was seconded by Mr. Moynan.

The Mayor having acknowledged the compliment the proceedings terminated.

Previous to proceeding homeward, on the invitation of Mr. Moynan, the visitors went to see the stone breaking machines at work outside the County Courthouse. At six o'clock the cars set out from the capital of the North Riding of Tipperary, and after a delightful run, Limerick was reached in a little under an hour.

been living with Lord Liverpool at his residence in Grosvenor Gardens. There members of the family had gathered in readiness for the wedding, and when she met them at breakfast she was apparently in good health and spirits. Soon afterwards, however, she must have left the house, although the exact time of her departure is not known. On inquiry at Grosvenor Gardens it was stated that no one had seen Lady Constance leave the house, and consequently no description of her attire could be given with a view to tracing her movements. It was not until the hour of the wedding was close at hand, in fact, that it was realised that the bride had not been seen for some time, and the maid servants from Grosvenor Gardens had actually gone to the church. The bridegroom was in the vestry with his best man, when one of the bride's brothers arrived with a message from Lord Liverpool that Lady Constance was missing. No announcement was made in the church, but the news quickly spread among the guests, who after waiting for a brief while dispersed.

THE RETIREMENT OF MR. JOHN CULLINAN, CROWN SOLICITOR.

At the County Clare Assizes on Saturday, the Foreman of the Grand Jury, addressing Lord Justice Cherry, said that the following resolution, which had been proposed by Mr. Robert O'Brien Studdert, and seconded by Mr. W. W. A. Fitzgerald, was passed unanimously:—"That we, the Grand Jurors of County Clare, having heard that Mr. John Cullinan has retired from the position of Crown Solicitor for Co. Clare, desire to place on record our regret that he has found it necessary to retire from so important an office, which he has filled for so many years with such marked ability, and trust that he may be spared for many years to enjoy his well-earned leisure."

Lord Justice Cherry—I will have it sent to Mr. Cullinan. I thoroughly concur in that. I always found Mr. Cullinan a most excellent Crown Solicitor—most judicious, fair to all parties, honourable and upright in the discharge of his duties. I have had experience of him for many years, both as Attorney-General and Judge of Assize, and I must say that I do not think a better Crown Solicitor exists in the whole of Ireland than Mr. Cullinan was, or a fairer one.

The Foreman—It is happy for the Grand Jury to hear that your Lordship concurs in our opinion.

Lord Justice Cherry—I thoroughly concur with you.

DEATH OF MISS J. ARAHILL

We regret to record the death of the above esteemed young lady, which took place at her residence, Ballysimon, on Sunday morning, after a protracted illness. The funeral took place today from Monaleen R.C. Church for Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery, and was largely attended, testifying to the great regard in which the young lady was held.
