To the Right Worshipful Henry Watson, Esq. Mayor of the City of Limerick.

With feelings of the greatest satisfaction for your Worship's re-election to the Civic Chair of this extensive City and Liberties, We, the Cabinet-Makers, beg leave to offer most respectfully our strongest assurances that no body or class of Mechanics, in this City, is more warmly alive to your interests, than those who have now the honor to address you; fully conscious, that from the time the Rod has been committed to your hands, that no individual whom we know is better qualified to hold it, and that the Honorable Common Council, in the selection of you for the ensuing year, merits our warmest thanks in the re-appointment of a Gentleman of the strictest attention to the welfare of the Public in general.

We have the honor to be,
Your Worship's most obedient and humble servants,

(Signed on behalf of the Body),
CHRISTOPHER COLLIN, Master.

JOHN CARRICK, Secretary.

Limerick, July 5, 1825.

[The names of the Master and Wardens of the body of Hatters, were incorrectly inserted in our last—they should have been Denis Ryan, Master; Cornelias Hayes, Denis Ryan, jun. and William Meade, Wardens.]

MELANCHOLY EVENT.—Saturday last, Mr. George Dodd, a young lad, went to bathe near Annfield, County Clare, on the Shannon, and was unfortunately drowned, as was also, in endeavouring so save him, a boy named Meskile. Mr. Dodd was son of Mr. William Dodd late of this City.

A very melancholy accident occurred on Friday, in the neighbourhood of Miltown, County Kerry, by the incautious use of fire arms. Mr. Francis Newton was loading his gun to try the temper of his horse, when the charge unexpectedly exploded, and killed on the spot a faithful servant of his. An inquest was held by E. McGillicuddy, Esq. and the usual verdict returned.

Mr. David Fennessy, a respectable Apothecary in Waterford, whose absence for the last ten days had occasioned great uneasiness, was found drowned in the Suir, above Moncoyne, on Saturday, with his gold watch and some sovereigns in his pocket.

John Kennedy, a near neighbour of John Currane, of Corkaguiny, Co. Kerry, who was found murdered in a bog-hole, is committed to Tralee Gaol, on very strong suspicion of being a principal in that crime.

A barn and out office, the property of Thomas Milet, Esq. near Littleton, were consumed on Wednesday night, by malicious incendiaries, and the dwelling house was very near falling a prey to the flames.

The beautiful cottage of Edward Denroche, Esq. near Sheastown, Kilkenny, was burned down on Wednesday night, and there is too much reason to believe with a malicious intent.

At the fair of Limerick, on Monday last, pigs were higher than for some time back—Cork buyers attended to purchase for exportation; yearlings and two years declined a little, 3*l.* 15*s.* to 4*l.* 11*s.* for the former, and 6*l.* 10*s.* to 8*l.* for the latter; a great number of bad horses in little demand, but good in requisition by English buyers.

The fair of Limerick on Monday, gave birth to several fighting matches in the evening, between various folks returning from the green, and some of the streets were much disturbed by the noisy contests of the disputants. Five of the chief rioters were apprehended in Roche's-street by the police, who preserved order and regularity in the fair during the day.

A man named Nehane was killed and several others severely wounded, in a dreadful affray, at the fair of Ballygurteen, on Friday.

An extensive seizure was made by the Revenue Police
