We received this morning Brussels Papers to the 7th inst. but they contain no political news of the least interest.

Intelligence of the actual sailing of the Russian fleet is received this morning, via Paris, having been conveyed to that capital by M. Divoff, Secretary of the Russian Embassy to that Court, and who had travelled en avir from St. Petersburg. We may therefore expect to hear of its immediate arrival in the Channel, unless it defer a more northerly course for the purpose of saving sea. Before it can reach its destination, the British fleet in the Mediterranean will be carried to its full complement; and probably the French will also have completed their preparations before that time.

On Monday morning, the dividends and 3 per cent. consols, and the new 4 per Cents, amounting to nearly millions sterling, commenced paying at the Bank of England. On no occasion since the panic in 1826 have been so many persons present for the purpose of receiving their dividends. Great numbers were collected long before the hour appointed for the commencement of business, and up to the middle of the day, a scene of activity was presented in all the offices connected with the payment of dividends.

The branches of the Bank of England, have all reduced the rate of discount to 4 per cent. as a necessary consequence of the course adopted by the parent establishment.

The Government on last Friday, requested the directors of the East India Company not to dispose of Saltpetre which they had on hands.

His Majesty continues to enjoy good health, and takes daily recreations. Many rumours are in circulation respecting changes in the Administration, but we are enabled to state that no arrangements have as yet taken place.

At a Common Hall, on Saturday, Mr. Spottiswoode, Mr. Stables, were elected Sheriffs of London, in preference of Mr. Labroke, and Mr. Rundell, resigned.

Mr. Canning has issued most especial and pressing orders to all the Heads of the various Offices connected with the Government, to furnish him with a minute account of their establishment, and the salary in each department, in the highest down to the lowest; which accounts, in the Right Hon. Gentleman's observations annexed to them, are to be laid before the Finance Committee for the purpose of retrenchment, to be appointed the instant Parliament shall meet again.

Mr. Canning contemplates returning to the Foreign Office, and it is said strengthening the Administration by appointing the Duke of Portland, First Lord of the Treasury, and Mr. Canning remaining Prime Minister. In the event of such a change, nobody is spoken of as the new Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Mr. Vesey Fitz-Gerald, M. P. for the Co. Clare, has been appointed Paymaster-General of the Forces. It is said, he has been proffered the station of Ambassador at Berlin.

Nothing is decided on as to the Commander-in-Chief of the Forces. The King would have appointed Sir A. Murray had his rank been high enough. If the Duke of Cambridge comes in, Sir A. Murray who is a man of first talent, will probably be his Military Secretary.

It is announced positively, that Mr. Canning's recommendations will apply to all persons in office of whatever rank.

Mr. Palmerston will hold his first Levee on Friday, at the Horse Guards. The creation of Lord Melrose makes sixteen new peers since the month of June, 1826. This is in a shorter time than the short space of one single year.

His Serene Highness, the Prince of Leiningen, son of the Duchess of Kent has landed at Dover from Calais, and is on his way to London.

The sale of the Duke of York's books, last week, was a small volume, elegantly bound, entitled "Rules, Regulations and Nature of the Constitution of the great Lodges of Ireland," sold for a very high price, and great competition. Many of the pages exhibited royal autographs.

Herbert Taylor, and Col. Stephenson, executors of the Duke of York, were in treaty with an agent of the Duke for the sale of York House, who offered £100,000 for the purpose of converting it into a National School; but the Marquis of Stafford having offered £100,000, the executor finally closed with his Lordship—estimated that to finish this splendid mansion, furnishing, &c. will cost 50,000l. more.

His Majesty's Honourable Commissioners for the liquidation of Churches, have resolved that two, in addition to the present number, shall be erected in Rochdale. The Earl of Courtown, Captain of the Band of Gentlemen Pensioners, has resigned that situation. Lieut.-Colonel James L. Lushington is a candidate for the vacant situation of a Director of the East India Company. Lord Gambier presided at the annual meeting of the Royal Charitable Society, yesterday. Saturday, the Lady of Baron Anslam de Rothschild, Paris, daughter of N. M. Rothschild, Esq. was brought to bed of a son.

Illicit distillation is carried to a great extent in Manchester by the lower order of the Irish. Nearly two-thirds of the Distillers and Brewers in and about Glasgow, have given up business for the present, in consequence of scarcity and dearth of malt, hops, &c.

Mr. Wakefield is employed in writing a narrative of the secret history of the Turner abduction. On Thursday, a letter carrier of the General Post Office, a man of good character and in good circumstances, was found dead in a Tavern in Oxford-street, with his throat cut.

Last week, Mr. Richard Pincombe, of Wellcove, near Torpoint, put a period to his existence by shooting himself through the head. Mr. Robert Hiron, a respectable draper of Hinchley, was drowned while bathing in the Trent, near Nottingham, on Saturday.

An Anti-Duelling Society has been formed at Charleston, under the auspices of the Right Rev. Dr. England. The Society has been joined by a number of military characters of the greatest renown for intrepidity in the field of battle. Several civil officers of the highest distinction have also been enrolled as members.

The steward of a Noble Earl in Northamptonshire has lately absconded, taking with him, it is said, several thousand pounds belonging to his employer, and leaving behind him a large family of children.

At the Middlesex Sessions four watchmen were found guilty of a most violent assault upon a gentleman named Bell. Sentence not yet passed. A true bill for murder has been found by the Middlesex Grand Jury against Sheen, who, it will be recollected, was tried some weeks since for cutting off his child's head, but acquitted through a flaw in the indictment.

Penalties to the amount of 400l. were incurred, last week, by an English brewer, for having in his possession drugs prohibited by law. A jurymen was robbed in the Court of Exchequer, London, on Monday last, in presence of the Judge.

Edward Jones, a slator, fell from the roof of the Roman Catholic Chapel in Mulberry-street, Manchester, on Tuesday, and was dashed to pieces. On Friday morning, about six o'clock, a most appalling and fatal accident took place at Mr. T. Kearsley's mill, at Tildesley Banks, about four miles beyond Worsley, by the bursting of a steam engine boiler.

The engineer, who has himself fallen a prey to his own forgetfulness, in setting the engine to work, had omitted to turn one of the two valves which admit the steam from the boiler to the engine; and finding that the engine was not going at the proper speed, was continually stirring up the fire in order to increase the power of the steam, which, having only one valve to escape by, was increased to such an extent as to blow the boiler to pieces, and to throw down a great part of the building, burying in its ruins the engineer and 17 girls, who were employed as reapers in the uppermost story of the building. Of these, the engineer and seven of the girls were taken out dead, and several others so severely injured that two of them are since dead, and another so much bruised as to be despaired of.

We regret to state, that by the accident at Tildesley Banks, three more of the sufferers by this dreadful accident are now dead, making the whole number of lives lost, eleven. Lady Ebrington, daughter of the Earl of Harrowby, is considered in a dying state.

Mr. Thompson, M. P. for Dover, was entertained at a public dinner by his constituents this week. Lady Grey Egerton has been robbed at Tunbridge Wells, of a box containing three valuable gold watches, a quantity of jewellery, and other trinkets, and 17l. in money.

On Thursday night, four convicts contrived to make their escape from Ipswich jail, and have not since been heard of.

DUBLIN, JULY 13.

Mr. North arrived, from England, this morning, after having been returned to Parliament for the Borough of Melcombe Regis, belonging to the Marquis of Anglesea. The Bank of Ireland, following the example of the Bank of England, has given notice that they will charge only a discount at the rate of Four per Cent. per Annum, after to-morrow.

The Gentlemen of the Northwest Bar had their usual Term dinner on Saturday last, at Hayes's large rooms, Dawson-street. They entertained Lord Plunkett, Mr. Justice Moore, Mr. Justice Torrens and the Judge of the Prerogative Court, Right Hon. Doctor Radcliff.

Mr. Secretary Lamb attended divine service at the Castle Chapel, on Sunday, when the Rev. Mr. Elrington, F. T. C. D., preached. Service was read by the Rev. George Ogle Verner, Chaplain to the Lord Lieutenant.

The wife of the Secretary of Ireland is indisposed in England. On Tuesday Mr. Sheriff Bunn entertained the members of the Corporation, and a number of select friends, at Morrison's, supported on his right by the Lord Mayor, and on his left by George Ogle Moore, Esq. M. P. for Dublin. The Rev. Mr. Blacker, City Chaplain, said grace—after which the Chairman gave the following toast:—"The King"—three times three.

"The Duke of Clarence and the Navy." "The Memory of his late lamented Royal Highness the Duke of York." "The Glorious, Pious, and Immortal Memory"—four times four. The next toast was "The Lord Primate, and the Church of Ireland." The Rev. Mr. Blacker returned thanks. "Protestant Ascendancy in Church and State"—three times three. Mr. Sheriff Bunn then rose and observed, that having given this toast, he could not avoid referring to a distinguished individual, at present in the assembly, whose health he would next propose, he meant "George Ogle Moore, Esq. the Representative for the City of Dublin."

On Thursday, the 19th Inst., all the charity children of Dublin, educated by the Protestant Parishioners, are to move in procession to St. Patrick's Cathedral, (now fitting up for their accommodation,) where an Oratorio will be performed by the different Choirs of Christ Church, the College, Castle Chapel, and St. Patrick's. After which the children will proceed to Stephen's Green, where they will encamp, and be examined in different portions of Scripture, by his Grace the Archbishop, several other Bishops, and different other Clergy. They then are to be entertained at dinner. If the day be unfavorable, the youngsters will dine in the Rotunda of the Corporation, which is afforded them by the Lord Mayor. It is thought that nearly 4,000 children will be present.

The Shannon Steamer arrived yesterday morning at three o'clock, having left London bridge at nine o'clock on Saturday last. We understand she stopped one hour at Dover, one at Cowes, and six at Falmouth. Thus accomplishing her sailing in 82 hours, the principal portion of her voyage against a strong head wind. She sails again on Saturday, calling at Falmouth, Dover, &c.

The Rev. Mr. M'Sweeney, late of Carlow, has been appointed Professor of Dogmatical Theology to the Irish College, at Paris.

On the first of August a Surgeon is to be elected for the Queen's County Infirmary, in place of the late Dr. Jacob. The Lord Chancellor has appointed Massy Hutchinson Massy, Esq. of Mount-Massy, a Magistrate of the County of Cork.

Mr. Braham appeared upon our boards last night, in the Opera of the Devil's Bridge. It is needless for us to say that he was received with enthusiasm. Age, that has made such havoc among many others of our public singers, seems but to have that effect upon Mr. Braham's voice that it has upon wine. His tones and cadences are rather mellowed than deteriorated by it.

Mr. Braham will go to Cork about the second week in August, for the Assizes. In the King's Bench, on Monday, James M'Cready, administrator of John Dixon, was awarded £493 against Arthur and Elizabeth Perrin, administrators of Thomas Dixon, deceased, amount of a sum appearing due at foot of a settlement.

Monday, the Court of King's Bench was occupied with the case of a warranty of a horse. George Jackson, Esq. of Mount Pleasant, Tipperary, v. Dudley Perse, Esq. of Roxboro, Galway, Esq. Verdict for plaintiff 180l. the sum originally paid for the animal, and six pence costs. In the case of Margaret Francis v. Cadwallader Wadder an action of assumpsit for education and maintenance of defendant's two daughters in a boarding house at Mount Pleasant, a verdict of 220l. was had for plaintiff.

In the Court of King's Bench, on Wednesday, Pierce Mahony, Esq. of Merrion-square, was awarded £113 against John M'Clintock, Esq. of Louth, amount of a pair of horses bought by plaintiff, and warranted by defendant.

The Gentleman who purchased Lord Gormanstown's four carriage horses for 185 guineas, which gave rise to a suit in the King's Bench, on Saturday, was Mr. O'Gorman Mahon, of the County Clare.

Mr. Namara, who attempted to assassinate Doctor Browne, was apprehended yesterday in College-street by peace-officer Mackey, and has been since committed. He made some resistance on his apprehension, and said to the officer, that if he had his pistol about him he would not permit him to do his job so easily. He is, as we understand, a relative of Mr. Browne, and from the style of his conversation and general demeanour, it is more than apparent that he is not perfectly sane.

Sunday morning, about nine o'clock, a woman, of the name of Margaret Atkinson, in a fit of intoxication, took a lofty plunge from the balustrading of Carlisle Bridge into the river. She was rescued from drowning by the intrepidity of a young man, who plunged in after her and brought her ashore.

Yesterday morning, between four and five o'clock, the police at the Barrack-gate opening into Kevin-street, perceived smoke issuing out of three first floor windows of the house opposite, occupied by Mr. Tallon, broker. The police immediately endeavoured to alarm, the family by knocking at the door; but finding this ineffectual, had it broken by a sledge. The rooms on the first-floor were filled with thick smoke, and a portion of the drawing-room floor in flames. Mr. Tallon's family consisting of his mother, wife, and five children, had to be actually taken out of their beds in their sleep, and thence to the street by ladders—While thus descending, a son of Mr. Tallon had his leg broken. The timely notice by the police was most fortunate, otherwise, in all probability, several lives might have fallen victims, the house being extremely large, and occupied by fifteen or sixteen families. Two engines were in attendance, and the fire was got under with little injury.

A subterranean fire, of great extent, has made its appearance at Leeds, and greatly alarmed the inhabitants. The Imperial Mining Company for Ireland, are to elect fifteen directors on Thursday next.

On Sunday, four persons publicly renounced the communion of the Church of Rome, in the Parish Church of Killenure, County Leitrim. One woman publicly, and one privately, conformed to the Established Religion at Calry Church, Sligo, on the same day.

Mr. Eneas M'Donnell has recently got an accession of 50,000l. to his fortune, by his wife, an English Lady, who, with her children, have conformed to the Roman Catholic religion.

Extract of a letter dated Killarney, July 10—Our races having terminated on Saturday last, which were numerous and most fashionably attended, select parties are coming in to view the delightful and picturesque scenery of these celebrated lakes, mountains, &c. Amongst the many distinguished visitors we noticed at the Kenmare Arms were G. B. Kelly, of Acton, Middlesex, Esq. and family; the Right Hon. Lord Willoughby de Broke, the Hon. Captain Somerville, R. N., the Rev. W. Legge, Mr. Rochfort, and many others whose names we have not ascertained.

Three Police Stations have been just established—two at Barn, one at Marlfield, and one at Rathmore. Patrols are constantly sent out on the different roads leading from Clonmel for the protection of property.

The Rev. Edward Doherty, P. P. of Glendanna, and Lower Cumber, has received from the Worshipful Company of London Grocers, £50, to enable the Roman Catholic tenantry on their estate in that neighbourhood to build a chapel.

PROVINCIAL BANK OF IRELAND. THE DIVIDEND. On the Company's Stock for the Half-Year ending 31st December, 1827. Is now in course of payment at the respective Offices. Provincial Bank of Ireland, Limerick, 11th July, 1827.

The Limerick Chronicle SATURDAY, JULY 14.

We are extremely sorry to have to record another instance of the barbarity and demoralization of our peasantry.—On Monday last, two parties (Ryans and Coffeys, whose animosity has existed over twenty years—and for what reason no individual of either side could assign a motive—) assembled at the Fair of Mount Pelier, in this County. Henry Brien, a servant boy to one of the leaders, was pursued by the opposite faction, armed with clubs, stones, and other missiles; and, in endeavouring to escape their fury, he was overtaken in a garden, to the rear of one of the houses in the centre of the Town of O'Brien's Bridge, and most barbarously murdered. But what adds to the horror of this most sanguinary and unmeaning homicide is, that the matter excited not the smallest noise, confusion, or interruption, to the business of the fair: nor was the body found, or inquired after, until three o'clock, on the following day. It having been reported that a fight was to have taken place, the constituted Authorities took every precaution; and, at the moment the unfortunate man was murdered, the Magistrates, with Mr. Balmer, Chief Constable, his Police, (mounted and dismounted,) and the military party of the 32d Regiment, were on the alert in the fair-green, as was Lieutenant Bindon, C. C. and the Clare Police. Yesterday, an inquest was held on the body before James Bennett, Esq., Coroner, and a most respectable Jury, when a verdict of a wilful murder was returned. We must applaud the exertions of Mr. Balmer, who remained on the search the whole of that night; but, for the present, we are sorry we cannot announce the apprehension of the deluded miscreants, which we are convinced cannot long be the case.

Benjamin Jackson, Esq. Chief Constable of Police, having been apprised of a wanton attempt at abduction and rape, on a female returning from the fair of Hospital, with her mother, on last Monday night, about 12 o'clock, within one half mile of Kilmallock, dispatched Constable G. Latchford, and a party of his Police, when, after a fatiguing search, they succeeded in apprehending the principal, named Finucane, in Charleville, who is a noted offender; they also recovered the female, who fully identified the prisoner. He was committed to the County Jail by Major Maxwell, to abide his trial at the next Assizes.

On Thursday there appears to have been some rioting and disturbance in the town of Tipperary. The Police were repulsed to their quarters, and several windows were broken by the country people. A detachment of the 34th, stationed at the barracks, were also attacked by the town's people, and all the windows were broken with stones, and their forbearance only had the effect of making the mob more outrageous. The exhibition of oranges in the windows is stated to have been the cause of this affair.

Wednesday evening, Thomas Flinn, a butcher, fell over the parapet wall, near Ball's Bridge, into the river, at full tide, and was drowned. A spectator plunged in after him, but without success, and the body was not found until next morning. The Mayor held an inquest on Thursday, when a verdict of accidental death was returned.

Yesterday, the Mayor held another inquest on the body of Ann Hinks, who was killed by the fall of an old wall in Newgate-lane. Verdict, accidental death.

Saturday, a poor, deranged shoemaker, named Labiff, threw himself into the river at Ennis, and was drowned. At Killarney, on Monday last, Mr. Kelly and Mr. Dillon embarked in a four oared boat, which the pilot, either through negligence or want of skill, ran against a rock near Ash Island and the frail bark immediately went to pieces. Mr. Kelly swam with difficulty to shore and Mr. Dillon, supported on an oar, was taken up in a most exhausted state, by some people from Mucruss Abbey. This should act as a caution to strangers, and make them more careful in the selection of bargemen.

General Sir Charles Doyle is expected in this city, from England, in the course of a few days, to assume the command of the district.
