

pronounce it a most fallacious standard, and which is insufficient to convey any feasible estimate of the amount of criminal outrage, in which a portion of this county has been unfortunately prolific the last 9 months. Consider for a moment the untold catalogue of midnight attacks upon farm-houses, the seizure of fire-arms, the injuries to property, the destruction of cattle and farming stock, the loss of life and injury to person, within that period. Of this accumulation of guilt but three cases a Whiteboy nature have been revealed at the present assizes, and of these Mr. Langford was instrumental to conviction in two; while all the rest are without the jurisdiction of the law! What a miserable example does this afford of that law's supremacy, and of the success of the Crown prosecutions at Assizes!

An Address of thanks to Mr. Langford from the Magistrates and Jurors attending the Assizes, is this day in course of signature.

Friday night a dreadful murder was committed upon a poor industrious man, named Peters, within a musket shot of the Police barracks, in Bansa. He was dragged out of his house in the most savage manner by four ruffians, who beat him to death.

In the Sheriff's Court this day, a Jury was impannelled to assess the arrears of rent and dilapidation of premises in the Old Town, held from Mr. Purdon by Miss Dickson.—Verdict, £47 rent; £80 dilapidation, and 6d. costs.

John Ryan died in Hospital this morning of wounds inflicted by his daughter-in-law, Alice Bushe, whose person, it is alleged, he attempted to abuse.

A most distressing catastrophe occurred at Cove on Saturday last, which place was crowded with visitors to the President Steamship, for which many boats put off. Amongst the rest a large whale boat, belonging to Dr. Cotter, of Cloyne, from Aghada, in which were Major Rogers, Mr. W. Johnston, Mr. Murphy, and Mr. Hugh Roche, of Aghada, Lieutenant R. Lawless, R. N. three sons of the Rev. W. Welland, a policeman, servant, and the crew of five men. A fresh breeze sprung up, and the reefs of the boat's sail were let out, against the advice of some, and the President appearing in view, more of the party stood up to view the better, when a squall came in off the point of Haulbowline, capsized the sail boat, and five persons, melancholy to add, perished, viz. Mr. Roche, Mr. Lawless, and the three sons of the Rev. Mr. Welland, the rest having been picked up in an exhausted state, by boats from the yachts and the shore. The bodies are not yet found. The sons of the Rev. Mr. Welland were nephews of Captain Charles P. Dawson, Revenue Police, Killaloe.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cox, of Ballynoe, have arrived at Tunbridge Wells, where their friends will be happy to learn Mrs. Cox's health is much improved.

A very extraordinary and unfair advantage is taken by a few of the Guardians of Rathkeale Union, resident in that town, by calling a meeting this day, for the purpose of appointing an assistant valuator to Mr. Thomas Potter, in the absence of several gentlemen for striking his commissioned punishment was death. Capt. Fitzmayer, R.A. had arrived from Newman, 14th, is coming home smallpox had spread from Barb Dr. Coleridge, Bishop of Barba land under a guard of honor of t

Colonel Smyth and family she Cape of Good Hope; this excellence the 62d for many years.

To-morrow will be the anniversary of Salamanca, in which the 38th bore a distinguished part.

Capt. Tudor, Ensign Inglis, 69th, consisting of 42 men, from the Depot here yesterday to embark for morning for Cork, with an escort.

The only Prince of the Royal done duty in Dublin garrison Cambridge, Colonel in the Army, the 12th Lancers there. The Prince upon a superb grey charger. He is in any respect distinguished from the same rank in the Regiment tall and rather athletic young in height. He is light haired, cast, but not particularly striking.

The gallant Lieut.-Colonel Dragoons, has, as we anticipated, ill health, to retire from active White succeeds, by purchase, to distinguished Regiment.

The situation of Aid-de-Camp Commander of the Forces in Scotland Lord Greenock, is vacant by the Moore, Inniskilling Dragoons, Major-General Sir Thos. Pearse, commanding the Northern district, moving from Armagh to Belfast, on the Ensign Thomas William E. leave at the family mansion, county, before embarking with in Autumn.

Major Huey, 68th, and drafted landed from Cork only a few days with a number of mutinous new Major Huey is reported to have several of his men.

Dr. Riach, 67th, is ordered

Her Majesty on Friday, invested G. C. B. Lt.-Gen. Lord Keane Hotham; with the insignia of Lord Neil Douglas, who commanded Vice Admiral Sir John West, R. Dashwood, Sir J. W. Loring, J. Hillyar.

The London Gazette of the 1st Majesty's permission for Lieut. and Major-General Sir Willoughby the first class order of the Dor