A great number of respectable families arrived from Tarbert, Kilrush, and Kilkee, on Monday and this day, to attend the Race Meeting at Newcastle, which will open on Friday with extraordinary eclat. A large encampment of tent owners is already formed, and the course was never known to be in such capital racing order.

Monday morning, a mason's wife, named Haneen, living in Newcastle, was attacked with cholera morbus. John Pierce, Esq. M.D. and Mr. Miles O'Brien, Apothecary, gave every assistance in their power, but without effect, as she died in nine hours ; she was in perfect health the day before.

A country woman was summoned to the Petty Sessions Court, Newcastle, on Friday last, charged with uttering a base half crown. On Nicholas D'Arcy, Esq. the Attorney for the prosecution, handing up the half crown to the Bench, the Magistrates discovered that the money was good, and ordered it to be restored to the owner.

Holwell Walshe, Esq. Q.C. has arrived from Dublin, on a visit to his brother, F. Weldon Walshe, Esq. for a few days, at his house in Glentworth-street.

Wm. Beveridge, Esq. is appointed Manager of the Tralee Provincial Bank, in room of Bartholemew M'Kenzie, appointed to the office of Branch Inspector.

For discovery of the murderers of Thomas Storman, at Holycross, while returning from Cappawhite fair, £200 reward is offered by Government.

Mr. W. Bradshaw, Grocer, of William-street, was robbed of £10 by an apprentice, on Sunday, who eloped with the view of embarking for England, but was yesterday caught.

A poor woman of the name of Leary, fell in at the Steam-boat quay yesterday, while leaning out to catch some floating turf, and was drowned.

The Petty Sessions are to be held at Newcastle on Thursday next, instead of Friday, the usual day.

For forty years past the river Mulcair was never so swollen as from the heavy rains of the past week.

The re-appearance of Mr. and Madam Balfe upon our boards this evening, must greatly please all the respectable circles interested in the progress of operatic entertainments.

It is proposed next season to place two four-wheel two-horse vehicles upon the road between Kilkee and Kilrush, for the conveyance of passengers only by the steam packets, as a protection against the private car-drivers, who have raised the charge to 1s. 6d. a-head.
