DEATHS.

At Kilkee, on the 28th inst. aged 78 years, Jane Purdon, relict of the late Captain Robert Atkins, of the South Cork Militia, and mother-in-law of the late much lamented Rev.
 Henry Gubbins. Her remains passed through Limerick yesterday for interment at Meelick Church-yard.
 At Clonsingle House, in the county Tipperary, on the 29th inst. Robert S. Young, Esq. whose death is sincerely and deservedly regretted by his family, numerous friends, and tenantry. He was at all times an affectionate husband and father, and a most indulgent landlord. It has seldom fallen to our lot to record the decease of an individual more universally respected and beloved. His life was throughout that of a sincere Christian, and he died in the full assurance of everlasting peace.
 At Craggs, in this County, the seat of Bourke White, Esq.
 on Tuesday last, much and sincerely regretted, Ellen Mary, daughter of the late D. Bourke, Esq.—a lady remarkable for piety and her many amiable qualities.
 On Wednesday morning, at her house in Upper Mecklen-burgh-street, Dublin, Mrs. A. C. Lopdell, relict of the late Charles Lopdell, of Castle Lodge, in the county of Galway, and daughter of the late Rev. Henry levers Ingram, Rector of Kilmurry, in this diocese. She bore a long and painful illness with Christian resignation.
 On Sunday, at his residence, Ballygagan, Walter Butler, Esq.
 late Captain 65th Regt.
 At Park, near Kanturk, on the 27th inst. in his nineteenth year, John, eldest son of George Gilkrest, Esq. He was a youth of great promise, and bore the sufferings of a lingering and painful disease with truly Christian fortitude and resignation.
 In Cork, Nathaniel Evanson, third son of William Conner, Esq.
 At Kilmeen, county Cork, Miss Jones, eldest surviving daughter of the Rev. Henry Jones, late Rector of Lislee.
 At his residence, Breeze Hill, Monkstown, John Tomlinson, Esq. aged seventy six years.
 At his house in Baggot-street, Charles Benson, Esq. Barrister.
 At London, Mary Justina, widow of the late Sir G. Cooper, Judge of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Madras, daughter of John Lloyd, Esq. Dale Castle.
 At Princes Risborough, Bucks, Cordelia, wife of John Edmonds, Esq.
 At Lichfield, aged 71, the Rev. Coperthwaite Smith, B.D.
 Head Master of the Free Grammar School of that city.
 Martha Elizabeth, wife of Edward Evans, Esq. Duke-street, Cardiff, aged 55 years.
 At Gloucester, in her 90th year. Frances, relict of the Rev.
 John Harding, of Rockfield, Monmouth.
 At Bath, George Maynard, Esq. late of Muswell-hill, and of the Customs, London, in his 76th year.
 At Wootton Hall, Stafford, the Right Hon. Lady Louisa, wife of Walter Davenport Bromley.
 At Earl's-court, Old Brompton, Margaret, wife of C. Wesley Doyle, Esq. in her 24th year, only daughter of the late Major-General Sir Neil Campbell.
 At Wakefield, Mons. Jean Brecaille. He was formerly one of Napoleon's Life Guards; and, after Napoleon's overthrow, served in the English army. Of late years he has earned a subsistence by teaching the French language at two-pence per week.
 At Tullyvin, Stradone, the residence of her brother, Rebecca, third daughter of the late Joseph Martin, Esq. of Tullyvin.
 At Sandville, in her 75th year, Catherine, relict of the late John Crozier, of Gort ra House, county Fermanagh, Esq.
