DEATHS.

On Monday, the 28th inst. in Garry Kennedy, county Tipperary, Frances, relict of the late George Watson, Esq. The kind and unobtrusive manners of this lady endeared her to an extensive circle of relatives and friends, leaving in her domestic branch a chasm (particularly as a fond parent) that can be only filled by the pleasing recollection of her now enjoying the reward of a life strictly regulated by those maxims, which alone can render the pious Christian victorious over death.

At his house in Thomas-street, on Saturday night, after an illness of some weeks duration, aged 52 years, Mr. Richard Hunt, merchant-tailor, who had long been at the head of his business in this city, and enjoyed the reputation of a first-rate tradesman, as well as the character of a most respectable and worthy man.
 He has left a widow and six children to deplore an affectionate husband and parent, and his fellow-citizens to regret the loss of one whose life was an example of moral rectitude, and correct deportment. The immense funeral cortege represented, unequivocally, the estimation in which deceased was held by every class of persons, and the many influential friends of the late Mr. Hunt must be pleased to know that the extensive business will be conducted by his eldest son, a young man, for some years quite conversant with its theory and practice.
