In a drunken affray, at Milton, County Kerry, on Sunday, between two factions, Daniel Hamman, an industrious publican, was struck in the head with a stone, while standing at his door, and died on Friday of the wound, leaving a wife and seven children.

DEATHS.

On Sunday, in Cork, sincerely and deservedly regretted, by an extensive and highly respectable circle of relatives and friends, Maria, relict of the late Arthur Ormsby, of this City, Esq. Burgess, niece to the late, and sister to the present, Right Hon. Lord Viscount Gort. A succession of severe domestic calamities—visible in the death of three beloved sons, the objects of her dearest affection—inflicted a shock on the maternal feelings of this amiable lady, which eventually proved fatal to her health, for the restoration of which she had proceeded to Cove. She endeavoured to support those heavy afflictions of Providence, with christian piety and resignation; but exhausted nature at length yielded to the visitation, and she died in the bosom of her surviving children. Her remains will be interred, this day, in the family vault, at St. Munchin's Church.
