DEATHS.
At Brompton, near London, on the 8th inst. in the prime of life, to the inexpressible regret of her family and relatives, Emily, the beloved wife of Edward Forster, Esq. of Southend, and daughter of Thomas Gibbon Fitzgibbon, Esq. of Ballyseeda;—during a long illness she evinced the most patient and Christian-like resignation to the Divine will, in a certain hope of a Resurrection to Eternal Life through the blood and righteousness of the Lord Jesus Christ.
On Monday night, at Glenville, in this county, aged 80 years, Mrs. Massy, relict of the late William Massy, Esq.—A Lady much regretted.
In Rutland-street, Hannah, daughter of William Glover, Esq.
In Glentworth-street, Richard Gallwey, Esq.
On Monday, at Kilkee, to the universal regret of his friends and fellow-citizens, Mr. William Magrath, many years an active peace officer of this City, whose great and meritorious services during the calamitous season of Cholera in Limerick will send his name to posterity on the record of public gratitude.
In Upper Pembroke-street, Dublin, on the 9th inst. in his 17th year, Edward Tierney Bowles, eldest son of Henry Bowles, Esq. a most endearing, affectionate child, of much promise and amiability of manners—beloved by all who knew him. His death is the source of deep and lasting regret to his sorrowing parents, relatives and friends, who are consoled alone by the assurance of his dying in perfect confidence of his Redeemer's love, "With whom he is now in glory."
In George's-street, much regretted, Mr. Peter M'Namara.
At Russell-place, Dublin, Gerald Geoghegan, Esq.
At Simon's-town, Frederick William, youngest son of Rear-Admiral Sir Patrick Campbell, Commander-in-Chief at Cape of Good Hope.

Aged 72, the Rev. John Walshe, P.P. of Borris, county Carlow, uncle to the late Rev. John Walshe, whose sudden and violent death caused such inquiry.
In Sligo, after a protracted illness of twelve months, Lieutenant-Colonel Elliott, late of the 47th Regiment.
The Rev. Frederick P. Crawford, many years Curate of Aconry.
At Clohanes, county Clare, Mr. David Shannon.
In Rutland-street, Cork, of consumption, aged 21, Jane, eldest daughter of Richard Downan, Esq.
On Thursday evening, of apoplexy, at his seat, Lacken, near Tipperary, in his 71st year, John Smithwick, Esq.—a gentleman universally lamented by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. His only brother died two months since, and his second son last April.
In Chatham-street, Dublin, Mrs. Margaret Byrne.
At Springfield, Portlaw, the residence of her brother, Robert Shaw, Esq. Miss Sarah Newbold.
At Robertstown House, county Kildare, the residence of his father, the Rev. A. D. C. Ireland, the eldest son of Wm. Ireland, Esq. Ellen, wife of Joseph Francis Hopkins, of Possetown, county Meath, Esq.
In York Terrace, Regent's Park, London, M. W. Buchan, Esq. only child of Major Gen. Sir John Buchan, commanding at Athlone.
In Berners-street, London, Robert Scott, Esq.
Mr. George Hayden, printer, Little College-street, Westminster.
In Glasgow, Robert Watson, Esq. Collector of Police-rates, formerly an eminent banker in that city.
At the Manse of Thurso, the Rev. Alexander Gunn, Minister of Watten, one of the most zealous and devoted Missionaries in Scotland.
At Boulogne-sur-Mer, Charlotte, the wife of Vice-Admiral, Sir Willoughby Lake, K.C.B.
At Montreal, Lucy, daughter of Quartermaster Healey, 32d Regt.
At Passy, near Paris, Harriet, sister of Sir E. C. Disbrowe, his Majesty's Minister at the Hague.
At Edinburgh, aged 21, Thomas, eldest son of the late Major-General Sir W. Douglas, K.C.H. of Templedean, Roxburghshire.
