 [In recording, on Wednesday, the death of Joseph O'B. Carey, Esq. of Thomas-street, in this City, we had not time to notice the general sympathy that pervaded this City at so unexpected an event. His scientific attainments and mental qualifications were of the very first character; suffice it to say, had he lived he would have been an ornament to his profession. A remarkable coincidence of the Divine will—was strongly exemplified by his death on the very day he specially appointed for his nuptials:—he displayed in his last moments the most exemplary piety and resignation—"Oh Death where is thy sting, oh Grave where is thy victory."]
