DEATHS.

At the Vicarage of Holycross, on Thursday, Wily, the beloved wife of J. Smyth, Esq. and daughter of the Rev. William E. Lloyd—a young lady whose premature death is a source of deep regret to her fond parents and husband.

At Killfinane, on Wednesday last, Mrs. Charles Bennett, universally and deeply lamented. This excellent lady was distinguished by a simplicity of faith in Christ, which yielded such devotedness of life, such meekness of spirit and kindness of heart as to win the affections of all, of every class, who enjoyed the privilege of her acquaintance. When no female teacher was employed in the admirable Parochial School, this excellent Lady, aided by two relatives, undertook the whole management of the work department—procured all the materials—instructed the female children for 16 years in useful and ornamental work, and enabled many of them to support their families by those labors. Her attention to the sick poor was unremitting, and the care and affection she bestowed on the poor Protestant orphans most exemplary. The death of Mrs. Bennett has shed a gloom over the interesting scene of her works of faith and labors of love, lightened only by the blessed hope of a glorious resurrection—meanwhile her memory is deeply engraved in the hearts of many, and when the rising generation shall have passed away, the fruits of her lively faith in the atonement will be again remembered by a glance at the beautiful testimonial presented to their beloved friend by the amiable and noble-hearted Miss Gascoignes.

On the 4th instant, at Monroe, the residence of her son, to the inexpressible grief of her family and friends, Helen, relict of the late Richard Power, Esq. of Monroe, county Tipperary, and eldest daughter of the late Samuel Dickson, Esq. of this City. She bore a tedious illness with Christian fortitude and died rejoicing in her Saviour.
