TO GUARDIANS.—We observe with the Board of Guardians of Tralee union rward in their strict sense of justice, and editors interest at the rate of five per cent.
This transaction shews the Tralee Board of honest and honorable men, and it speaks their favour—as they paid interest not se who had penalties accruing against those who had not. We hope, sincerely er unions following their example, and imple act of justice to those persons who n during their difficulties, particularly roved the unions have been supplied at s, and where their contracts were open to tition, and in many instances penalties ived, amounting to thousands of pounds.
Boards of Guardians will follow so praiseonorable an example as that set them by board, and at once pay those who were ns “friends in need.”
