

...ed its capacity
...nted itself she
...eful tenderness
...purity and ex-
...DN.
...s held yesterday
...chair.
...the effect, that
...ling themselves
...ster their votes,
...fluence. It was
...animously.
...proudest honour
...unanimous elec-
...Union (cheers.)
...ce, because your
...much as I would
...n in your pre-
...men were never
...nsider that the
...have evinced—
...nce of patriotic
... (which is most
...tation of repeal,
...justice without it,
...s more deserving
...ven an eloquent
...the last meeting
...emed friend Mr.
...office, but I now
...eland, that Mr.
...is a blessing to
...I congratulate
...n I behold the
...ne ablest man.—
...the most Orange
...Donegal will be
...am also able to
...Carlow are safe,
...o-morrow three
...honest Radicals
...yond a doubt—
...that Fermanagh
...l of attempting
...ng so we would
...ngemen for five
...Irishmen. My
...recollection that
...ourselves upon
...I am wandering
...pal topic upon
...e of the deepest
...ng importance.
...We must come
...full knowledge

...the maintenance of public credit, and the security of public business, so much depend. We know, and every person of intelligence is aware of the fact that the public can never suffer by a Joint Stock Bank. How can they with an extended and wealthy proprietary, with a large paid up capital, and with unquestionable security for every bank note issued?—Waterford Chronicle.

We have just learned that the Merchants of Waterford have refused to purchase, and that the price of all commodities in the market has fallen to about one-three-fourths the value!—Idem.

Saturday night last, about 11 o'clock, an alarm of fire at Courtbrack ran through the city, and it was ascertained that part of the out-offices of Mr. John Lucas, in the south liberties, were in a blaze, but fortunately with the prompt aid of his domestics, and the co-operation of some of his neighbours who hurried to the scene, the flames were quickly got under, by tearing down the roof of the out-office, and thus cutting off communication with the dwelling-house, in the vicinity of which stood several stacks of hay and corn. The spark of a pipe falling on some loose straw is supposed to have originated the fire; as it happened, the escape was most providential. The Mayor, and the Artillery engine, with a party of fatigue men, were promptly on the spot, but happily their exertions were not required.

Wednesday night, a fire broke out at the stores of Mr.
Wm. Hill, in William-street, which however was suppressed before any serious damage occurred.

Friday night an accidental fire in the residence of Mr.
Hogan, near Pallis Castle, destroyed his furniture.

Edward Kelly, rather an elderly man, who was thrown from a restive horse in William-street, on Saturday last, and severely hurt, as then announced by us, died in hospital of the injuries he received last Sunday. The Mayor held an inquest on his body, verdict accordingly, but with a censure from the jury upon the dangerous practice of exercising horses in the streets.

The charges investigated at the important inquiry in Listowel, affecting the character of three Magistrates of Kerry, and a Chief Constable of Police, are recorded in our columns. These charges would implicate the accused in a degree of criminal irregularity, which it is painful to contemplate. Amongst the witnesses examined were Police Sergeant Chillingworth, Timothy Brennan, Edmond M'Elligott, William Thompson, Policeman, Mr. John Clements, Engineer, whose evidence was material, for he testified to the bad feeling between the Magistrates and Chief Constable at Petty Sessions, having described the conduct of the Police Officer to the Bench as "savage and brutal," and that Mr.
M'Donogh also applied the word "false" to the Magistrates.
Mr. Cashel and Mr. James Raymond, Magistrates, corroborated the evidence of Mr. Clements. John F. Hewson, Esq. Deputy Lieutenant, Pat. Nichol, Policeman, Michael Quigley, Mr. Richard Harnett, Solicitor, Edmond Cain, and James M'Carthy, were the other witnesses examined on the first day's proceedings.

The Ordinance
allowance to garri months.

Captain and M painful loss when
The nurse, with th leaning against the
The vessel was im
ed, but quite insen
and brought on bo

Major-General
purchased Cholder
a sporting residen

Major-General S
equestrian compan

Mrs. Honey can evening, in a new

Mary Doyle was Mayor of Wexford handkerchiefs and Adjutant of the 1

The Mayor of V not having name a carts, agreeable to

In the case of M
for a criminal info

A Branch of the Robert Gaff, of Car

There is great emigrate to Newfo

At Fermoy race
waile won the sta

Dyson's Col, Mr.
Mr. Geran's Refor

stakes of £10, an hunters, beating

Hercules, and Mr
in each instance v

night was a splen young Marquis of

when the Steeple £50 added, came

M'Donogh, was t
rode by owner, ne

ground very heav
Debenture last ye

mel Mail-coach.
weather was so bac

the free handicap,
heats, Mr. Geran'

At the Currag
Mulgrave's Quick

Watts' Langford
Colonel Westenra'

£20 added; and with £20 added.