The coming of my Lord of Westmoreland is still spoken of with doubt—nay, some politicians, professedly in-state secrets, go so far as to assert with confidence, that he will not visit this country in a Viceroyal capacity.

The present posture of affairs in Europe, point out to the Crown the necessity of deputing a representative in this country, of temper, address, spirit, abilities, and experience—qualities all, which Fame does not attribute to this Nobleman in an eminent degree.

His Grace of Leeds is now spoken of as a favourite object with the Crown, and is said to be in treaty for the department.

On Monday last, proceedings in a cause of considerable consequence, between Mr Price, plaintiff, and the Corporation of the College of Dublin, defendants, came on to be heard before his Excellency the Lord Chancellor, on the plaintiff's petition, praying leave to traverse the findings on an inquisition in 1759, whereby certain lands in the county of Wicklow, were found to have been devised by the last will and testament of Dr. Baldwin, formerly Provost of Trinity College, Dublin, to the Provost, Fellows and Scholars of said College—when after very extensive pleadings, and a speech delivered by the Chancellor, replete with found equity and great legal language, his Excellency decreed—that the plaintiff should be at liberty to traverse.

Same day, the Attorney General, on the part of the Crown, moved for a conditional rule for an attachment to issue against John Magee, for two publications, of the 15th and 17th of September, in a paper called the Dublin Evening Post, of which the said John Magee is Proprietor for misrepresenting the proceedings of the Court of King's Bench, and reflecting on the Judge who presided. Rule granted unless cause in four days.

Mr. John Magee of College-green, was last Thursday brought up to the Court of King's Bench in order to receive judgment on the information at the suit of Mr Higgins; when he was remanded to the custody of the Sheriffs, to be again brought up on Tuesday next, in order to assign error.

Thursday, in the Court of King's Bench, an application was made that the Court would be pleased to name a day to hear Counsel (on behalf of John Magee) to set aside a verdict obtained against him on a trial at Nisi Prius, at the sittings after the last term. The Court objected to hear any motion, until Magee appeared in custody, and cited several cases to prove that to be the rule, when a person had been convicted of a misdemeanor. Upon which Mr.
Magee's Counsel moved, that their Lordships would be pleased to order the High Sheriffs to bring up Mr. Magee, who was then in their custody; to this the Court assented, and in a short time Mr. Magee was brought up, in custody of Mr. Sheriff Vance; when, after a variety of learned arguments of Counsel on both sides, the Judges unanimously rejected the application, as militating against the established and known rules of the Court (Magee having had sufficient time, and not availing himself of it); but observed, that his Counsel might move in arrest of judgment, when, if any errors appeared on the record or proceedings, the prisoner should have all the advantages, and asked when the Counsel would be properly prepared.
—On Counsel mentioning Tuesday next, the Court ordered Mr. Magee to be remanded by the Sheriffs, and to be brought up on that day.

The election for forty-one Directors for the Royal Canal Company commenced on Friday, it is hoped the Subscribers did, on this occasion, consult the honour of the Company, and the interests of so important an undertaking, as well as those of their country, by steering clear of JOBBERs in their selection of proper Directors.

LIMERICK, 16th Nov. 1789.

STATE LOTTERY began Drawing last Thursday.

will be examined Gratis; all others will be examined during the entire Drawing for a British Six-pence each Number.

Several expresses have been sent over from Paris for Mr. Breslaw, the celebrated conjurer; the King wants to be conjured to London where the Parisian mob cannot insult him; the Clergy want to have their money and plate conjured into some spot where the National Assembly cannot touch it; the Marquis Launey wants to have his head put on, which was cut off in taking the Bastille; in short if Mr. Breslaw will venture to go to Paris, in these tickle-some times, he must make a rapid fortune by his astonishing dexterity, which has so much sur-prized all ranks of people in England, Scotland and Ireland.

We have the pleasure to find, that most of the Boxes are already engaged at the Theatre; the fair and the good are always the first to espouse the cause of Distress and Poverty.

On the morning of the 3d instant, an armed smuggling Cutter mounting 10 carriage guns and 6 swivels, with a number of men, came to anchor at Carrigholt, in the River Shannon.— Robert Sidley revenue officer, at said place, attempting to board her in an open turf boat, (the Barge being gone to Limerick) was fired at six times, at about 20 yards from said Cutter, and pursued nine miles up the river. Notwithstanding which Mr. Sidley, at the extreme hazard of his life, took a boat laden with tobacco from said Cutter, and lodged 11 bales of it in the King's Stores, the remainder was thrown into the sea by said smugglers, who have lost a property of 400 or 500l. The sea all round the boat was full of goods, which Mr. Sidley was prevented taking up by a great storm.

Last Thursday Mr. O'Brien, H. C. apprehended at Toulerton, Mark Reddin, of Manuf-more, in the county of Clare, farmer, charged with killing his brother Patrick Reddin, by fracturing his skull with a pitchfork, on the 2d October, of which he languished till the 10th of said month.—He was escorted to town by a party of the Spittal Association, and committed to the county gaol by Walter Widenham, Esq.

DIED. Last Thursday, in consequence of a fall from his horse, the Rev. John Quin, Prebendary of Eflin, in this diocese, brother to Sir Richard Quin, of Adare, Bart. and brother-in-law to the Right Hon. Earl of Ilchester.— If ever a man lived beloved and died greatly lamented, it was the Rev. John Quin, and painful it is in the extreme, when we have occasion to notify the death of such a worthy man.
With a liberal mind, unfettered by any narrow opinions, he was the friend of mankind.— Gentle and amiable in his manners, sincere in his friendship, exemplary in his private conduct. strictly honourable in all his dealings; his death is an irreparable loss to his family, and will be felt by Society, to which he was a distinguished ornament, as well as by the numerous poor, whom he constantly employed in making many useful improvements on his estate.—His remains were yesterday interred in the family vault in the Chancel of Adare Church.

The Prebend of Eflin, vacant by the death of the Rev. John Quin, is in the gift of Sir Richard Quin, bart.
