DEATHS.

At Newcastle, on Monday last, Mr. John P. Sullivan, formerly a respectable shopkeeper and banker in that town, aged 76 years.
At his residence, in Academy-street, Cork, in the 62d year of his age, John Bennett, Esq. solicitor, a freeman of that city.
In Tralee, Margaret, wife of Pierce Chute, Esq. late Provost of the Corporation.
In Thomou-Gate, Mrs. Power, Schoolmistress.
On Sir Harry's Mall, Jane, eldest daughter of the late Mr. John Parsons, of this city, printer.
At her father's seat, Bettyville, county Cork, aged twelve years, Melena, the only daughter of James Therry, Esq. The early and unexpected demise of this interesting child has created a general sympathy in the sorrow of her afflicted parents, who were just anticipating from her maturer years a happy recompense for the early care and cultivation of a mind naturally gentle and amiable. Their fondest hopes now blasted, the only alleviation for their grief is that she has passed from this transitory life to a happy region, prepared for innocence such as hers.
Arthur, infant son of the Archdeacon of Cork.
On the Grand Parade, Cork, Charlotte, only daughter of Mrs.
Elizabeth Burton.
Eliza, wife of Mr. Samuel A. Howard, of Leitrim-street, Cork, After a few hours' illness, at the Vicarage, Kinsale, Mary Anne, youngest daughter of Andrew Batwell, of Fortland, Esq.
At Rock Cottage, Cork, Kate, aged 11 years, youngest daughter of Captain Ralley.
In Tralee, Mr. Daniel O'Sullivan, many years an eminent apothecary in that town, and a Director of the National Bank.
In Waterford, of fever, Mr. John Palmer.
At The Palace, Lincoln, Anne, relict of B. Burton, Esq. of Burton Hall, county Carlow.
At Trim, Andrew, youngest son of Captain Despard, resident Magistrate.
In Swanlinbar, Nathaniel Montgomery, Esq. an eminent solicitor, and of the firm of Nathaniel and Richard Montgomery of Dominickstreet, Dublin.
At Killyleagh, Mr. Wm. Scott, Serjeant-major of the Royal North
Down Militia, in which he served 43 years.
At Mantua, county Roscommon, Rice Hussey, Esq. Clerk of the Crown for the county Leitrim.
Mary, wife of Richard H. Creighton, Esq. of Paulville, co. Carlow.
Jane, second daughter of Mr. Davis, Mail Coach Agent, Sligo.
Mr. John Samble, of Newry.
Mrs. M. Devine, of Mountnugent, county Cavan, only sister of Surgeon B. Kernan, of Devonshire.
On Friday, in Nicholas-street, after a lingering illness, Mr. James Crotty, master tailor, father of the Rev. Michael Crotty, P.P. of Birr, and brother to the Rev. Michael Crotty, of Castle-Connell.
On the 13th instant, at Kilfinane, Mrs. Mary Franks, relict of the late David Franks, Esq. She was a most useful and truly amiable woman, and met death with perfect composure resulting from an entire reliance on the blood of her precious Redeemer.
At Trim, Andrew, youngest son of Captain Despard, Resident Magistrate.
After a few days' illness, Maria Amelia, and Frederick Aylmer, children of the Rev. William Henry Hughes, Castlecomer.
In Hanover-square, London, Captain James Green, R.N. of Wellington, Haris.
Mr. W. Beale, the celebrated piano forte player, of the house of Cramer and Co.
At Leigh-street, Burton crescent, Edward Wilson, Esq. late Captain of the 17th Dragoons.
In Norfolk-street, Strand, William Wynne Smith, Esq.
