

of God. He would ask any of his tenants that reads the Bible the idle, wicked and disaffected at night for the destruction of noble faculties of the Irish mind by ignorance and prejudice, the beneath the weight of externalistic impetuosity of soul is but error, and native talent is cunning cunning. Such, said Mr. tate to which the Irish character row and confined policy. Mr. eloquent eulogium on the success of the institution.

rose and said, this meeting had hold over a Society, which was the British Islands—a Society of social union and happiness—but peace and good-will to man, could make, he trusted he would of any, and he had never yet without first supplicating God the feelings of a single individual its divine Author, was no does not contemplate man as a liency, but gives him what he is e record of Truth, and the testi- Gospel teaches indifferently love show and the cabin, warns them exhibits their effects; it offers, all, to master and to servant, to t this particular time there seemed on his Throne to the Peasant in of feeling directed towards the versified operations. The Society, hing whatever to do with politics, d the toilsome life of a politician, forcing a stone against a hill, g down upon him. With a feel- or his country, he would call on cause of the Bible, which has the ood of his fellow-men for its ith the Hibernian Bible Society and beyond all former precedent as as now. Must Ireland be an mprovement which overspreads py to answer, no; and it was to know, that nearly half these e Province of Munster; within 132 Auxiliaries are established ankful to the Lord for making, as f man his instrument; 40,000 were put in circulation last year. ing, like the Israelites in Egypt, ppressed, the greater was their leaf of the beautiful foliage of way, though the storm continued was the very essence of tolera- Wales a contribution of £200 and in four days 700 copies of sminated in South America. hted to learn, that those climes of idolatry and superstition,) are of Scriptural education. The it has attained its meridian alti- bountiful stream of life and bject to its salutary sway, the e centre of peace and harmony. was the only book which teaches contentment to the poor; while a the eye of affliction, we are ase our exertions, nor consider all men shall be subject to the y commenced his address, by author of our salvation expected his duty; we are able to con- out from lake warm friends we will soon arrive, however, when

BIRTHS

On Saturday last, in Patrick-street, Kilkenny, the Lady of the Rev. John Beresford Johnson, of a daughter.
At his seat, near Galway, the Lady of the Honorable Martin Ffrench, of a daughter.
At Larch-Grove, County Waterford, the Lady of P. O'Keefe, Esq. of a son.
At Castlecomer, the Lady of Richard Eaton, Esq. of a son and heir.
In London, the Lady of John Wilson, Esq. Barrister at Law, of a daughter.
At Balandinisk, County Cork, the Lady of Benjamin Jeffords, Esq. of a son and heir.
At Cambridge, the Lady of George Jenyns, Esq. of a son.

MARRIAGES.

At Borrisokane, on Wednesday, by the Rev. John Studdert, Samuel Bell Kingsley, Esq. to Dorothea, daughter of the late William Maunsell, of Castlepark, near this City, Esq.
On Tuesday last, by the Rev. Mr. O'Grady, Mr John Cronin, of this City, to Miss Elizabeth Ward, of Mungret-street.
In Dublin, R. O'Connor, Esq. of Tuam, to Maria, eldest daughter of Thomas Byrne, of Lower Bridge-street, in that City, Esq.
In Wexford, James Devereux, Esq. of Dublin, to Miss Kennedy, of that town.
Timothy Shine, Esq. of Curribally, County Cork, to Anne, daughter of Thos. O'Halloran, of Killoccrim, Esq.
In Newry, Mr. Thomas Luttrell, Agent to the Fair Trader Coach Company, to Mary, widow of Captain Gray, of Warrenpoint.
At Southampton, Richard B. McKenna, of London, Esq. to Jane, daughter of Wm. Kelly, of Dublin, Esq.
At Ilfracombe, the Rev. R. Hitchcock, of Haxton, to Martha, third daughter of the late Sir William Gibbons, of Stanwell Park, Middlesex, Bart.
Colonel Long, Grenadier Guards, to the daughter of Arthur Atherley, Esq.

DEATHS.

In Dublin, very much regretted, the son of James O'Connor, Esq. of this City.
At Mount-Heaton, King's County, much regretted, Robert Taylor, Esq.
Yesterday, at his house in Church-street, Ennis, in the 88th year of his age, Mr. William Griffith—a truly honest man, who lived respected, and died regretted.
At Marsh's Library, Dublin, aged 85 years, the Rev. Thomas Cradock, Prebendary of St. Audeon's, for nearly sixty years Rector of Drung and Larch, in the Diocese of Kilmore.
In South King-street, Dublin, Mr. James Carton, many years a letter-carrier at the Post-Office.
At the Ursuline Convent, Waterford, Catherine, daughter of the late Pierce Barron, sen. of Castletown, in that County, Esq.
Francis Warren, of the Yarn-hall, Dublin, Esq.
At Harristown, County Kildare, the Rev. John Sheils, formerly of Ballynahinch, County Down.
At Ryn, Queen's-County, Richard Crosdaile, jun Esq.
In Hanover-street, Cork, Mr. John Hodgkiss.
At Port of Spain, Trinidad, Richard Greene, Esq. Assistant Commissary-General of that Colony.
In Mallow, Mr. Thomas Gailaher, aged 18 years.
At Blennerville, aged 11 years, Augusta, second son of George Fosbery, Esq.
At Willville, near Monaghan, Philip, son of the late F. McKenna, of Drogheda, Esq.
In Stephen-street, Dublin, Mr William M'Comas, jun
At Booterstown, Julia, wife of Dean Swift, Esq.
At Janeville, County Wexford, Mr Jacob Poole, one of the Society of Friends.
At Knockmain, County Roscommon, the Rev. Owen Gallagher, Vicar of the Union of Killenvoy.
At Westminster, John Sale, Esq. a celebrated musician of the old school.

NOTICE.

THE NEW
19, George's-Street
THIS EXTENSIVE ESTABLISHMENT

THE SUPPLIES ARRIVING

THE PROPRIETORS H
WOOLLEN

BEG TO APPRISE THE PUBLIC
YE
As the Cl

THE Stock comprises a vast variety of Ex
Habit, Pelisse, and Cloak Cloths; Dou
Top Coats; Scarlet and Green Hunters' Cloth
selected from some of the first London House
Ware-Rooms have been fitted up exclusively Coatings, Kerseys, Cords, Barragons, Velv insertion.
The Principle upon which the Proprietors understood, the Cloth Hall is a branch of an E solely from that source, therefore no intermedi equitable system of asking but ONE PRICE, wit with the price marked in plain figures; all Sal of importation.

The HALL will be found at all times su Buttons.

The Proprietors have arrived to them, per London, an elegant assortment of the best for a Commission,) will be sold at 23s. each

Wanted for the Win
A SMALL FURNISHED HOUSE,
situation.—Apply at the Chronicle Office
W. P. O'Connell
Nov

TUTOR WANTED
IN a Gentleman's family, to prepare Lad College—also to instruct in Writing and
and of the Established Church.—Letters directed to G. F. Post-Office, Limerick; w to.
W. P. O'Connell
Nov

DAN O'BRIEN
TAKES leave to inform his friends and that he is, as usual, well supplied w
of the best description, particularly Tea, he has personally selected. From the know acquired relative to the article in a foreign enabled to choose that of the finest descr
he now sells at his establishment for 6s.
Fine Old Dublin Whiskey, 7s.—Fine C
full strength, 6s.—Other articles equally most reduced Cash prices.
An Apprentice wanted.
W. P. O'Connell
Nenagh, Nov.

To be Let,
IN THE TOWN OF MAL
THE old established INN, formerly hel
& HODGINS, much improved, wit
and Yard, Stabling for 40 horses, Gran barrels of Oats, Lofts for 50 tons of H is low. A Lease of Lives renewable fo given, with or without a fine, and imm
Apply to M. O'CONNELL, near the