professional match between Michael O'Neill over three days in smoke," says the day Chronicle. "O'Neill and the latter replied that he required three months to get over a farm in Ireland. He is the champion in that month, but it is quite impossible. There is a race over a quarter of a mile between J W Reed, of a side. The capabilities of Reed are unknown publicly, but he is quite willing to meet any man for a deposit, showing business, for it to be covered on fair condition, and he will beat."

pointed to interview the Limerick Race Company, stating that eight of these gentlemen had promised hearty co-operation in the endeavour to secure the engagement of a local band, instead of an English military one at future race meetings. An address to be laid before the committee of the Public Free Library was read, asking members to allow no trashy English periodicals or works advising emigration to British Colonies, to be placed on the tables of the reading rooms, and asking that all works relating to Ireland be allowed for home refusal.

The report was adopted, and the question of appointing a deputation to present same to the committee at their next monthly meeting was adjourned to next meeting.

A large deputation attended before the meeting from the local branch of the Gaelic League with reference to the formation of a joint committee from both societies to interview the County Council already appointed by the County Board to deal with the question of cleaning the city streets in Irish. In the absence of the Vice-President, Mr Wm Whelan, C.B.C., who first suggested the matter, it was decided to adjourn the question to next meeting.

It was decided to immediately open Irish History Classes in connection with the society's Irish Language Classes.
