DEATHS.

On the 17th instant, at his residence on the North Strand, Carrol Naish, Esq., late of Ballycullen, in this county. Death has seldom consigned to the grave a man possessed of such rare qualities and refined talents. In every relation of life he was exemplary—a devoted husband, a fond and affectionate father, a steady and unflinching friend, a sincere and practical Christian. As a magistrate and grand juror, he was admired for his unswerving principle and close discernment. His sudden demise has caused an irreparable blank amongst his afflicted family. His remains were this day conveyed to their last resting place in the family vault, at Askeaton Abbey.

In Barrington-st., on the 9th inst., Mrs Johanna O'Connell, late of Catherine-place, Limerick, after a long and painful illness which she bore with marked resignation and submission to the Divine will. The eminent piety and Christian charity of this truly amiable lady are too well known to require especial notice here. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

At Sydney, New South Wales, Mr William Galbraith, formerly of this city, druggist and Insurance Agent.

At Bray, the Very Rev Dr. Milley, spiritual adviser of the late Daniel O'Connell, M.P., the great Irish patriot.

At Galais, after a short illness, Andrew Coffey, Esq, J.P., late of Listowel, county Kerry.

At Leinster-road, Bathminee, Penelope Elizabeth, relict of William Fishbourne, Esq., of Carlow.

At Mountjoy-square, Richard Manders, Esq, of Brackentown, county Dublin.

At Phibsborough-road, Dublin, Mary, relict of the late Wm
 Graham, Esq.

At Lower Gardiner-street, Dublin, Margaret, relict of Bartholomew Ennis, Esq, of Killougher, county Meath.

At Upper Sackville-street, Dublin, Mrs Mary Dwyer

At Camden-street, Dublin, Jane, wife of Walter Farmer, Esq, late of Poplar Hall, county Kildare.

At Upper Fitzwilliam-street, Dublin, Jane, widow of Richard Knight, Esq.

At Oryan Lodge, John Lynch, Esq, late County Inspector of the East Riding of Galway.

At Portumna, county Galway, the Rev. Charles Paul, rector of Portumna, and formerly vicar of Willow, in the county of Somerset.

At Eniscorthy, Charles Harrip, aged 100 years. Deceased was an old soldier; he served in Egypt under Sir Ralph Abercrombie, and had been in receipt of a pension for sixty years.

At Carrickfoergus, EMmor, wife of John H Daly, Esq.

At Princethorpe, near Leamington, Alice, daughter of Patrick Breen, Esq, J.E., Castlebridge House, county Wexford.

At Wimbledon, Surrey, the Dowager Lady Forbes, of Newes, Aberdeenshire.

In London, Dr. Andrew G Power, honorary surgeon to the Royal Bristol and Gloucester Artillery Corps.

In Tavistock-square, London, Thomas Gibbes, Esq, of the Stock Exchange.

At Worcester, Lieutenant-Colonel Jasper Taylor Hall, late of the Coldstream Guards.

At Barbados, Mary Ogle, daughter of the Hon. Sir R Bowdler
 Clarke, C.B., Chief Justice of Barbados and the Windward Islands.

At Paris, Robert W Harris, Esq, of Hamilton, Canada West.
 He was a native of Grange, county Antrim.

At Calaba, near Bombay, Henry George Monk, Esq, Lieut.
 36th Foot.

At Sydney, New South Wales, Eleanor Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Alfred Stephen, Chief Justice; and on the same day,
