Nov. 27.—The R.M.S. La Plata brings news that Messrs. Sliddell, Confederate commissioners, were out of the Royal Mail Co.'s steamer on her passage from Havannah to St. American war ship San Jacintha. are the details of the capture of the mmissioners, while on their voyage to St. Thomas, in the English mail —The steamer Theodore, with the on board, ran the blockade at Charles-th October. Mr. Siddell was accom-wife and three daughters. They left board the Trent at noon on the 7th he 8th, as the Trent was approaching ssage in the Old Bahama channel, a sel was observed waiting ahead and ours. On coming near the Trent hoisted ich met with a response from the war within about one-eighth of a mile the said, fired a round shot across the at the same time hoisting the American liately afterwards, it is reported, she from a long pivot gun on her fore-burst about 100 yards to leeward nt. Captain Moir, of the Trent, ailed the captain of the other 3 what he meant by stopping his ship at he wished to send a boat on board, at ne one was lowered containing 2 officers and was sent alongside the Trent. The led the Trent and demanded her list of which was refused. Lieut. Fairfax, the mand of the party from the war steamer, l to be the San Jacintha, then said that kes, the commander, had received reliable that Messrs. Sliddell, Mason, Eustace, were on board the Trent, and demanded ould be given up. This was peremptorily y by Captain Moir and Commander Wil-, the naval agent in charge of her Ma-, the former stoutly denying the right of vessel to take any person from under flag. The commissioners were standing boldly declared they were all present, but ard a British ship claimed the protection The lieutenant said he would take charge mer, and waved his hand to the San Ja-en three more boats were sent alongside in e 30 marines and about 60 sailors. Com-illiams thereupon made the following pro- s ship I am the representative of her Ma-vernment, and I call upon the officers of ad passengers generally to mark my words he name of the British Government, and in nguage, I denounce this as an illegal act in of international law; an act and deep of racy which had we had the means of defence d not dare to attempt." The men of the then boarded and came on deck of the Trent outlasses, and the Commissioners were forth- ed and forced into the boats. Mr. Slid-

An inquest was held to-day, by John Gleeson, Esq., City Coroner in Edward-street, on the body of Catharine Nash, a married woman, of 35 years of age, who was found drowned on yesterday evening in a water barrel, which was fixed in the yard in the rear of her dwelling house. It appeared that she had been labouring under fever and complaining of the dreadful heat of her head, and having no one to mind her but two infants, she left her bed and went into the yard where, being in the act of cooling her head in the water, she fell into the barrel, and being too weak to extricate herself, she was accidentally suffocated, and the jury found a verdict in accordance with the facts.

CITY POLICE COURT—MONDAY.

The justices who presided were the Mayor, Alderman Tinsley, and P. G. Barron, Esq.

PAUPER IMPORTATION!

A young man about 18 years of age, who gave his name as Wm. Ward, was brought before the magistrates by the police authorities as a proper object for poorhouse relief. On being questioned by the justices as to where he came from and his business in Limerick he gave the following account of himself:—He said that he was born in Limerick and left it with his parents when only 13 months old and proceeded with them to Wandsworth, in Surrey, where he has been earning his bread as a day labourer ever since he was able to work and where his wages were 2s. 6d. per day, but employment failing and sickness visiting him he was compelled to seek relief in the workhouse where he remained for some time when the authorities removed him from thence put him on board a steamer and forwarded him to Cork where he was landed on the quays without a morsel of bread to put into his mouth or a ha'penny in his pocket to purchase it. From Cork he was forwarded to this city where he also arrived in want of relief.

In reply to Mr. Barron, the applicant said that the workhouse authorities at Wandsworth told him that they could not afford to retain him in the house, and that as he was Irish, he should return to his own country. They then brought him before a magistrate, in whose presence he neither signed a document nor authorised one to be signed for him, and after that he was shipped for Cork.

Mr. Barron said that there was no doubt but the applicant was entitled to a settlement in England after a residence of over 17 years in that country.

The Mayor then directed that the poor fellow who was evidently weak should be taken to the poorhouse and receive kind treatment and in the mean time the guardians would not fail to communicate with the proper authorities in England on this subject, which was one, they said, of great hardship.

Patrick Moore, a smith's helper, was charged with assaulting a publican, alarming his bar maid, and upsetting a barrel of cider, because he was refused a double supply of O.D.V. of which Boniface imagined that he had previously taken in an overstock and this offence being established by the evidence of Hebe. Vulcan was sent to jail for 7 days' where, instead of blowing a bellows, he'll be engaged in breaking stones for the public roads.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—John Gleeson, Esq., city coroner, held an inquest yesterday in the board room of Barrington's Hospital on the remains of John Connors, a boatman from Glynn, who died from mortification and tetanus or lock-jaw combined, being the result of a beating and wounds which he received in Brunswick-street on the evening of the 13th inst., from Michael Maher, an Ennis carrier, and Martin Callanan, a corn porter of this city, who knocked him down, dislocating one of his thumbs and breaking the other, and of which gross outrage they were convicted at last Friday's petty sessions, and fined £2 each compensation or three months' imprisonment with hard labour. On Monday the victim of their ruffianism died, according to the evidence of Dr. Thomas Gellston, of a compound dislocation of the first joint of ROBBERY IN MACROOM.—Some months ago the shop of Mr. Daniel Cronin, a grocer, and spirit dealer in Macroom, was entered by some parties on a market day, who contrived to carry off the till and its contents—namely, seven half notes of £1 each, fifteen shillings in silver, and some coppers. Mr. Cronin then made a declaration as to the facts, which he lodged in the National Bank of this city, giving therein the numbers of the corresponding halves which he still retained. Matters so remained until Wednesday last, when a respectable man, named Murphy, having occasion to call at the bank, tendered a note in payment, being two-half notes pinned together, the numbers of which did not correspond. Mr. James Campbell, one of the officers of the bank at once observed the error, and on referring to his check note found that the numbers of the half notes presented, corresponded with those of two half notes stolen from Cronin, and accordingly stopped them. Murphy, a decent farmer from the neighbourhood, having satisfied the bank officers that he had come by the half notes in what he considered a perfectly honest and legitimate manner, he was permitted to depart, and the constabulary at Macroom were at once communicated with. The case was put into the hands of Constable Nash, an experienced detective officer, who well sustains his previously earned prestige, formerly of Limerick, where his services proved of great advantage to the citizens, and who brought the matter against a man named Riordan and his wife, whom he arrested, and fully committed on the charge. The case will be heard before the next petty sessions at Macroom, on Wednesday week.—Cork Herald.

A retired Colonel in the Portuguese service, of the name of Butt, was sued in the Recorder's Court, London, for £10, alleged to be due to an advertising and monetary agent, for his trouble in getting the gallant defendant a wife of "between 30 and 40 years of age—of ladylike manners—great musical taste, and evangelically pious." It turned out, however, that the monetary agent procured a husband for the Colonel's daughter, and failed in suiting her gallant father with the fair partner whom his "fancy had sketched." The jury found a verdict for defendant.

Redpath, the plunderer of the Great Northern Railway Company, who is at present at the convict settlement in Western Australia, has published a volume of poems, which, in a letter to the chaplain, he says, "he trusts it will be found to express the sentiments of a penitent heart." He is said to be "most constant in his attendance at church, and in his general conduct and demeanour appears to be truly penitent."

The election for Carlisle was the occasion of a remarkable political struggle. A Conservative candidate offered himself, and was within three votes of being elected. The representative who has been elected to succeed a veteran and accomplished statesman, the late Sir James Graham, is Mr. Potter, the trades' union agitator, who has been the prime mover in some memorable strikes.

Major-General Booth is gazetted to the colonelcy of the 15th Foot, and Major-General Elliott to the colonelcy of the 55th Foot.

We have to record the death of Major-General Derinzy, which took place at his residence at Cheltenham, on the 22d inst., in the 74th year of his age.

A chaplaincy to her Majesty's Forces has become vacant by the death of the Rev. William Sturges, MA. formerly of St. Mary Hall, Oxford.

The 51st and 94th Regiments, now serving in India, with depots at Chatham, requiring about 100 volunteers each, have received orders to procure that number of men from the 44th, 56th, 66th, and 88th Regiments, and the transfer has already commenced.

By the appointment of Major-General W. H. Elliott, K.B., to the colonelcy of the 55th Regiment, a good service pension will be placed at the disposal of his Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge.

Leave of absence is granted to Colonel J. A. Cole, 1st battalion 15th Regiment, to 14th December next.

Leave of absence is granted to Major R. F. Lewis, 86th Regiment, in extension to 30th inst.

Lieutenant J. M'Loughlin, 11th Hussars, is granted leave of absence to 10th February next.

A number of the most intelligent and experienced non-commissioned officers and men have been selected from the Royal Engineers at Chatham to be despatched to Galicia, where they will be employed in surveying operations in connexion with the Danubian boundary commission. The non-commissioned officer who goes out in charge of the surveying expedition is Sergeant Hales; who is thoroughly conversant with the nature of the duties which will devolve on him and the force under his orders.
