

ty stated that on the night the robbery she had nine men, who were engaged at the Works, lodging in her place, the being amongst the number. Witness previously placed the money in a tin box, in a wooden box, which was placed in a room. Next morning she discovered that the tin was broken and the money stolen. Witness also found a sock worn by the accused in which the money was found by the police.

Smyth gave evidence of having seen the door for the prisoner during the time the accused went down to the room, and was seen by witness afterwards.

Power gave evidence that he found the money concealed under weeds at the public house where the accused was.

The jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

INDECENT ASSAULT.

CHARGE OF PRESENTING A REVOLVER.

O'Neill was indicted for presenting a revolver at one Patrick Halpin on the 18th of July. The Lordship directed a verdict for the Crown failed to prove that the revolver was loaded. The accused was accordingly acquitted. The case adjourned.

COUNTY PETTY SESSIONS.

Sessions were held to-day, before Col. O'Connell in the chair, Mr. J. C. Delnege, and Mr. J. J. O'Connell.

Fitzgibbon, and Patrick Guerin, were indicted for assaulting James Sheedy, a blacksmith, on the 20th September. His evidence was that while going to Ballysimon the defendant struck him from the back of the head outside the bridge.

He went down a "boreen" to avoid one of the defendants struck him on the head, another cut him on the back of the head and he had five cuts in the hand. He was in hospital for two weeks.

He was cross-examined by Mr. Counihan who said he had previously assaulted the defendant, and he replied that he struck one of the men they struck him.

O'Neill and Guerin had Sheedy summoned and the magistrates decided on dismissing the cases.

Inspector Lawless prosecuted.

O'Neill, solicitor, appeared for Sheedy, and Guerin, solicitor appeared for the other two.

Other cases having been disposed of, the court adjourned.

within 100 yards of each other, and were apparently on good terms. Corcoran is a respectable well-to-do farmer, and he had been engaged during the day at the Mountmellick fair selling cattle and disposing of corn. Dr Higgins opened an inquest to-day, and, after taking the evidence of the injured man, adjourned the inquest till to-morrow to admit of the post-mortem examination being made. Mr Vesey Fitzgerald, R.M., held the magisterial investigation to-day, and remanded the two Dunnes to Tullamore for eight days. To-night two female members of the Dunne family were arrested and kept in custody.
